GOOD AFTERNOON.

Republicans are not responsible for good crops, but they are responsible for the policy which furnishes good markets for good crops.

The American people repudiated the dea of "scuttling" out of the Philippines four years ago, when there was a reasonable doubt as to what might be the best policy to adopt and when the question was an open one. They are not likely to give that repudiated policy any more favor now when government under the Stars and Stripes is in full success, when the Filipinos are learning our language and are finding out by satisfactory experience the difference between Spanish oppression and American freedom.

TENSE VIGILANCE

Breat Battle Likely to Occur Within a Few Days

REMARKABLE SITUATION

Combatants at Some Points Are Within Hailing Distance-Calmly Behold Each Other Doing Entrenching Work

Mukden, Nov. 1 .- The manifestations of the Japanese in their centre, which now converges at a point where the plain meets the hills, have attained the greatest importance. At the present moment the trenches on both sides are crowded with troops and at many places the Japanese and Russians are within hailing distance. At the isolated hill of Manalon, in the plain where the Russians 10 days ago captured 14 guns and bayonetted 800 Japanese, the rival forces are only 600 paces apart.

The situation is perhaps the most remarkable in military annals. Two armies, each with the other as an objective, are approaching while constructing siege works, the making of which both sides are accelerating, each morning revealing the work done over night to the observation stations on every hilltop.

The Japanese, after their disaster at turning the Russians from a pyramidal hill opposite Fenchiapu, seven miles to the east. The Russians were commanded from three directions and withstood a loss of 60 percent from artillery fire on Oct. 27 before they were forced out by the Japanese infantry at night. The Japanese abandoned the position immediately after it was taken. The Japanese, who are posted on a similar hill to the south, appear now to have most determined designs to retrieve the position they abandoned.

Last night there was the heaviest bombardment of the week from the Russian batteries and the Russians are seemingly apprehensive of a crucial surprise. This bombardment was ac companied by a continuous rifle fire, while the infantry advanced by means of quick entrenching at intervals of a few hundred feet under cover of dara-

The outcome of this activity is a tense vigilance along the entire extended front. This tension, taken in connection with the reported reinforcement of the Japanese by one and onehalf divisions from Port Arthur, is likely to precipitate a great battle within a few days. The combatants. however, apparently are not disinclined to winter in their present posi-

In many districts the houses are disappearing, owing to the fact that the wood of which they were composed has been, or is being, removed for use as fuel. In the graveyards the trees have been felled and used for fuel, the making of fortifications or the building of bridges.

Port Arthur's Fall Is Near St. Petersburg, Nov. 1.-Two reports of General Stoessel have made a deep impression at the war office, where it is thought that the hope of the gallant commander of the fortress of holding out much longer is almost gone.

FURNACE COLD.

People who live in furnace-heated houses may have noticed the prevalence attraction offered by the Thespian Dra- of supposed colds, coughs and throat ailments immediately after the furnace matic Company at Bethany chapel has been started in the fall. As a matter of fact, experts declare that these epidemics are largely caused by the dust and germs which gather in the registers and hot-air pipes during the summer and are blown into the air of the house when the furnace is started. In addition to the ordinary dust, which is certain to settle in such places during the summer months, there is also danger that it may become impregnated with poisonous vapors from the cellar, which may be released by the current of hot air rising from the cellar, In view of the large number of houses which are heated by furnaces, the question of properly cleaning the pipes has an important influence on the health.-Healthy Home.

Host of New York People Turn Out to Hear Parker Speak

A PROLONGED OVATION

Twenty-Four Minutes of Un- by shells and machine gun fire, while broken Cheering Upon Appearance of the Candidate --Discusses National Topics

Democratic candidate for president. He addressed a monster mass meeting held in Madison Square garden, where his reception was attended by a demonstration seldom equalled, both in the intensity and the duration of the enthusiasm displayed.

Not only was the appearance of Parname by speakers who preceded him provoked outbreaks of applause. The tumult of unrestrained enthusiasm which accompanied Parker's entrance close attention given him during his speech.

Judge Parker's speech was of a chardemand as well as to the audience which gathered upon invitation of the Parker and Davis Business Men's association, under whose auspices the meeting was held. It dealt with methods of collecting campaign funds, and in this respect the candidate took severely to task his Republican opponents, following the line of a speech made recently at Rosemount on the same subject. He discussed the tariff and trusts. He told of his participation in political campaigns and asked his audience if it would not like to return to what he termed the old-fashioned principles, and his effort was a scathing arraignment of the present administration from the Democratic point of view.

Two hours before Parker was scheduled to arrive at Madison Square gartwo hours standing room was at a officer, but missed. He escaped. premium and many were turned away, unable to get near the garden.

The meeting was called to order at 8 minutes, pausing only to gain breath for were not clear. renewed outbreak.

Hoke Smith of Georgia, former secre tary of the interior, was then introduced and he started his speech in a happy vein. He congratulated New played in national campaigns, praising Mayor McClellan and Judge Herrick. His references to New York caught the crowd and when some one in a far corner of the garden returned the compliment by loudly cheering for the sunny south, nearly everyone in the garden responded. Mr. Smith had just begun a discussion of President Roosevelt's Panama policy when, at 9 o'clock, Mr. Parker entered the building by the entrance beneath the platform, but before he came within the view of the audience the signal of his approach had been given and the terrific cheering started.

Everybody in the garden sprang to their feet. The applause was one continous roar. After 16 minutes came a moment's lull and Straus tried to quiet the demonstration, but failed. Another minute passed and Parker stepped to the fore, but this tended only to excite COMPLETE RETIREMENT. the audience, which refused to subside until 24 minutes of unbroken enthusiasm had passed.

People who live in furnace-heated houses may have noticed the prevalence of supposed colds, coughs and-throat ailments immediately after the furnace has been started in the fall. As a matter of fact, experts declare that these epidemics are largely caused by the dust and germs which gather in the registers and hot-air pipes during the summer and are blown into the air of the house when the furnace is started. In addition to the ordinary dust, day when the newspapers announced which is certain to settle in such places during the summer months, there is the departure of the Russian Baltic also danger that it may become impregnated with poisonous vapors from the cellar, which may be released by the current of hot air rising from the cellar. London Greatly Agitated by "News" From Gibraltar

THE RUSSIANS QUIT VIGO

Stories of British Ships Being Cleared For Action Worked Population Into High Pitch of Excitement-Negotiations For Settling North Sea Incident Progressing Smoothly

there is not the slightest danger of any friction arising between the two governments. The constitution of the international commission under The against a snag. Hague convention is on the verge of

In spite of these pacific conditions Great Britain yesterday experienced a war panic that can only be compared by the news of the sinking of the trawlers in the North sea. Not for years have so many alarmist reports and flaming extras flooded London.

The most extraordinary feature of this scare, which was serious enough while it lasted, is that there was not one single circumstance to justify it. The excitement started early in the squadron from Vigo. The public were not in possession of the information that only the officers concerned in the firing on the British trawlers would be detached and jumped at the conclusion that Russia had broken faith by not detaining the vessels involved in the

On top of this came wild reports of tremendous activity at Gibraltar. Hour by hour the news from Gibraltar became more serious, until at last the climax was reached with the announce for action. Some even said the fleet had sailed to meet Rojestvensky's squadron. In huge type the papers Russian fleet has sailed," "The British fleet has cleared for action." No newspaper and no person seemed able to explain these events. The reassuring information available in the United States that the sailing of the Baltic squadron from Vigo was with the knowledge of and agreeable to the British government was not even hinted at by the papers here.

The news from Gibraltar became more and more alarmist, and finally the foreign office was overrun by reporters, some of whom brought the rumor that Admiral Beresford had already sunk the remnant of Admiral Rojestvensky's

Ambassador Benkendorff at that moment was quietly discussing with Foreign Minister Lansdowne the personnel of the international commission, but it was popularly rumored that he was receiving an ultimatum. Premier Balfour, Admiral Fisher, commander-in-chief at Portsmouth; Lord Selborne, first lord of the admiralty, and Prince Louis of Battenburg, director of naval intelligence, were all in conference, and it was openly hinted that they were planning the first stroke of war. As a matter of fact they, like Lord Lansdowne, were engaged in considering names that had been suggested for the international commission. When all London was in this state of mind the foreign office decided to adopt a course most unusual for it, and in order to allay the public excitement gave out to the press a statement serving to inform the people here of the exact situation. The general public, however, went to bed last night firm in the conviction that it would wake up to hear that Admiral Rojestvensky was at the bottom of the sea.

The furore would be ludicrous except for the striking instance it has afforded of the willingness of the British public to believe that almost any development is possible after the North sea affair, and for the enthusiasm produced by Gibraltar's warlike news.

The foreign office is intensely irritated at the construction placed upon what they declare must have been mere fleet and garrison exercises. It is authoritatively stated that no orders have been given the nuge fleet now concentrated at Gibraltar to make any preparations in connection with | the departure of Rojestvensky's squadron. Both the Russian embassy and the foreign office affirm that the negotiations yesterday were entirely confined to the selection of the international commission, in which no hitch has occurred. The king has privately expressed keen displeasure with the tone adopted by a certain section of the London press toward the agreement to submit the North sea case to an international commission.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 2.-The expectation of serious developments at the theatre of war has again failed of realization. Official dispatches record nothing more serious than the usual skirmishes. The strategists at the war

MILL MEN'S PLANS

Reopening at Fall River May Occur on Day After Election Fall River, Mass., Nov. 2.-Two plans for starting the mills are now under discussion among the mill men. One is to try to start on Wednesday morning, Nov. 9, the day after election; the other to start Nov. 14. Either one may be adopted this week. It is the purpose of the manufacturers to announce the reopening of the mills on one of these two dates, and also to say that the mills will be kept open a few days te give the operatives a chance to return. If it appears that the mills cannot be started, they will be closed for an indefinite period. A great many operatives and the union leaders do not believe the manufacturers will be able to open the mills.

CHAPTER XXI. LAY in prison until the 29th day of May, Royal Oak day. I know not quite how it came to pass, but none of my brother's efforts toward my release met with any success. I heard afterward some whispers as to the cause being that so many of high degree were concerned in the riots, and that if I, a poor devil of a convict tutor, were let off too cheaply, why, then the rest of them must be let loose only at a rope's end, and that it would never do to send me back to Drake

Hill scot free while Sir Humphrey Hyde and Major Robert Beverly and my Lord Estes and others were in durance, and some high in office in great danger of discovery. At all events, whatever may have I think it must have been-made those days, but with more comfort, since either Catherine or Mary-Mary curtain for my window which kept out that burning eye of the western sun and also fashioned a gnat veil to overspread my pallet, so the flies could not get at me. I knew there were others in prison, but knew not that three of them were led forth to be hung, which might have been my fate had I been a free man, nor knew that another was released on condition that he build a bridge over Dragon's swamp. This last chance my friends had striven sorely to get for me, but had not succeeded, though they had offered large sums, my brother being willing to tax the estate heavily. Some covert will there was at work against me, and it may be I could mention it, but I like not mentioning covert wills, but only such as be downright and exercised openly in the faces of all men. I lay there not so uncomfortably, being aware of a great delight that the tobacco was cut, whether or no, as indeed it was on many plantations, and the king cheated out of great wealth. This end of proceedings, with no Bacon to lead us, did not surprise nor disappoint me. Then, too, the fact that I was cleared of suspicion of theft in the eyes of her I loved and her family, at least, filled me with an ecstasy which sometimes awoke me from slumber like a pain. And though I was quite resolved not to let that beloved maid fling away herself upon me unless my innocence was proved world wide, and to shield her at all costs to myself, yet sometimes the hope that in after years I might be able to wed her and not injure her started up within

She came to see me whenever she could steal away, Madam Cavendish being still in that state of hatred against me for my participation in the riot, though otherwise disposed enough to give her consent to our marriage on the spot. And every day came my brother John and Catherine, and now and then Parson Downs. And the parson used to bring me choice spirits Washington Street Hack, Livery on his pocket, and tobacco, though I could touch only the latter for fear of in his pocket, and tobacco, though I inflaming my wounds, and he used to sit and read me some of Will Shakespeare's plays, which he bore under his cassock, and a prayer book openly in hand, that being the only touch of hypocrisy which ever I saw about Parson Downs. "Lord, Harry, thou dost not want prayers," he would say, "but rather, being fallen as thou art, in an evil sink of human happenings, somewhat about them, and none hath so mastered the turthest roots of men's hearts as Will Shakespeare. 'Tis him and a pipe thou needst, lad." So saying, down he would sit himself betwixt me and the fiery western window, and I got to believe more in his Christianity than ever I had done when I had heard him hold forth from the pulpit.

'Twas from him I knew the sad penalty which they fixed upon for me for the 29th of May, that being Royal Oak day, when they celebrated the Restoration in England and more or less in the colonies and on which a great junketing had been arranged, with races and wrestling and various sports. Parson Downs came to me the afternoon of the 28th and sat gazing at me with a melancholy air, nor offered filled my pipe and pressed hard upon

The Holland Torpedo Boat Company, of New York, has begun preparations Suffolk, L. I., to Quincy, near the Fore River Shipbuilding Company's yards, where the hulls of their boats are constructed, according to a Newport dispatch to the Boston American.

Five submarines are now in the course of construction, at the Fore River Yard, for the Holland Company, and are said to be destined for Japan. The Hollands have secured large contracts from several other foreign governments. Five submarines built at Fore River for the Holland Company were recently shipped to Japan.

Rear Admiral Francis T. Bowles, retired, president of the Fore River Company, was asked last night about the report. He said that at present he could neither deny or affirm it. > An eminent divine, in a sermon on good citizenship recently, declared that the man who is entitled to vote and neglects his duty is a traitor to his country. There are a great many men in the country at large who fail to take so serious a view of this simple, but important function of government, and every community contributes more or less to the army of non-voters. The word traitor is usually applied to one who performs some overt act against from the rear. The sovereign of a nation who would neglect so important a matter, where he is delegated to name a high official, would be justly entitled to the contempt of those who suffered through his neglect. In our form of government every voter is a sovereign, and the American people are accustomed to pride themselves on the fact that the poor voter has as much power as the rich man when they stand together before the ballot box, and the Baldwin said he believed the Arrow American sovereign should be as careful of his duties as he is strenuous for his rights. When Baldwin reached the Arrow and in less than an hour the Arrow was again in the air, making headway against the breeze that had blown it out of its course. After the Arrow had disappeared from the sight of those assembled in the concourse, the crowd waited patiently for some word from the damaged airship. Suddenly the Arrow was discerned arising above the horizon and within five minutes it had approached the concourse so near that Knabenshue could be plainly seen and ing events in Panama since it became

Three or four wavering revolutions but a shaft of truth would have struck followed and then the blades hung mo tionless, while the airship was again brought out such a public statement as grasped by the breeze and hurried back over the distance it had won in its duel with the wind. Higher and higher floated the airship, the breeze wafting it slowly away from the sight of those anxiously fol wing its course, > While Captain Baldwin and several assistants were returning the airship from the place it landed in St. Louis county to the aeronautic concourse, the lead rope was dragged from the hands of Baldwin's assistants and the airship broke loose and soared into the air. When last seen the airship was drifting rapidly in a northwesterly direction The airship escaped just as the persons towing it into the concourse had reached the immediate vicinity of the place. #### FURNACE COLD.

People who live in furnace-heated houses may have noticed the prevalence of supposed colds, coughs and throat ailments immediately after the furnace has been started in the fall. As a matter of fact, experts declare that these epidemics are largely caused by the dust and germs which gather in the registers and hot-air pipes during the summer and are blown into the air of the house when the furnace is started. In addition to the ordinary dust, which is certain to settle in such places during the summer months, there is also danger that it may become impregnated with poisonous vapors from the cellar, which may be released by the current of hot air rising from the cellar. In view of the large number of houses which are heated by furnaces, the question of properly cleaning the pipes has an important influence on the health.-Healthy Home.

CAUTION.

The above article is from a reliable source, and we do not believe the danger from this cause is over estimated.

It has been stated before by different authorities that a large per cent. of the throat and lung trouble in the winter months, in the northern states, was caused by the hot, dry, dusty air from the hot-air furnace and registers. To avoid this danger use the more modern method of HOT WATER, or STEAM HEAT, properly installed by

FISHERMEN'S TESTIMONY

Vessels Complied With Regulations Showing Nature of Their Calling--No Foreign Vessels Near--Coroner's Jury Returns Conservative Award

Hull, Eng., Nov. 3.-"That Georg€ Henry Smith and William Leggett were at about 12:30 a. m. on Oct. 22, while out fishing with trawls aboard the British steam trawler Crane, with board of trade marks exhibited and regulation lights burning, killed by shots fired without warning or provocation from certain Russian war vessels at a distance of about a quarter of a mile."

This is the text of the jury's verdict at the coroner's inquest on the fishermen victims of the North sea tragedy. At the request of the British government, represented by the Earl of Dysart, solicitor of the treasury, this conservative award was rendered by the first court of inquiry preceding the sessions of the international tribunal The government asked the jury not to hind a rerdict of wilful murder or man slaughter because "celicate negotia tions are going on, which should not be made more difficult; and they ought not to let anyone think they had pre judged the case before having heard both sides."

In consequence the jury simply se forth the facts proved by the evidence of physicians, experts on explosives and the trawlers themselves.

To the verdict the jury added the fol lowing rider: "On this occasion, probably the most momentous in the annals of the British empire, the jury would record their appreciation of the efforts made by the governments interested to arrive at a satisfactory conclusion of the matter, which, we feel, has no parallel in the history of the world."

St. George's hall, a large auditorium which had been specially fitted up for the occasion, was quite inadequate to accommodate the crowds that wished to listen to the evidence. The interest was intense, and there was some excitement, but no demonstration oc curred. A great number of people gathered in the vicinity of the building to await the verdict, and the space inside the hall was filled.

The British government, the Board of Trade, the officers of the Gamecock fleet and the relatives of the deceased and wounded fishermen were represented by counsel, but the Russian government did not participate. The proceedings occupied about three hours. The testimony consisted of medical evidence, by which it was proved that the death of Smith and Leggett was the result of gun and machine gun wounds. Then an expert identified fragments of shells by private marks, which he said were undoubtedly Russian. The stories of captains and mates of the trawlers

These latter related that while they were engaged in their regular work the ships of the Baltic fleet in two squadrons emerged suddenly from the haze and, throwing the glare of their searchlights on the Gamecock fleet, without warning, and disregarding flare and green lights, the fisherman's signal, and though within actual speaking distance of one vessel, commenced a cannonade, which the fishermen at first, not realizing the danger, enjoyed, thinking it was a sham fight. The firing lasted half an hour. To each of these witnesses was put the vital question regarding the presence of a foreign vessel or torpedo boat Each with equal positiveness denied that at any time preceding or during the firing was a Japanese, British or any foreign vessel seen by them or the ac companying fishing fleet.

It was also stated that there were no Japanese among the crews and that none of the trawlers carried arms of any description. One of the skippers replying to a question by the coroner said that during the five weeks he was in the North sea he had not seen any warships until that night.

This closed the evidence. Counse for the treasury then made the suggestion with regard to the nature of the verdict, with which the coroner agreed and without delay it was so returned with an added expression of sympathy for the relatives and friends of the dead and injured and of appreciation of the "calm and courageous manner in which the fishing fleet remained at its duties after the terrible experience."

I answer most emphatically. two High schools. The interest of the young people in this higher education so important in our time, will be greatly enhanced; the value of their II. hat trimmed with clusters of feathschooling will be vastly increased, by better accommodations, by smaller classes, by more intimate relations with the head of the school and with each instructor, a matter of infinite importance.

> The High school age is a delicate and dangerous period, every characteristic and tendency of the pupils should be noted. The talent, disposition, physical growth and moral trend of each individual needs the closest watch-care, and the most careful training. It is a time which calls for the deepest psychological study on the part of those who are intrusted with the mental and moral

He will see, as Grover Cleveland saw, when in all the flush, hope and enthusiasm of youth he went wholly, woefully wrong in his choice of a president at the very moment of the nation's crisis, at the instant and hour of awing fate, a president who, to accept Grover Cleveland's parallel, will be a "mature, undramatic and experienced Buchanan."

What was Buchanan? A president weak, vacillating and timid-silent ecause he had nothing to say, and deemed by some "dignified" because he dared say nothing. H's weakness led him into straits where he was only saved from being held a traitor be cause instead men held him irresolute, incapable and without principle. No great cause appealed to him. No great crisis aroused. He, too, the "mature, undramatic and experienced Buchanan," was always talking of the 'constitution" and dodging issues that called trumpet tongued for decision by prating about the rights and powers of the states.

Solemnly we say to any young man meditating his first vote, accepting it all. #### CHAPTER XXI-(Continued).

I truly think that if Parson Downs had informed me that I was to be put to the rack or lose my head it would not have so cut me to the heart. Some thing there was about a gentleman of England being set in the stocks which detracted not only from the dignity of the punishment, but that of the offense I would not have believed they would have done that to me, and can hardly believe it now. Such a punishment had never entered into my imagination, being a gentleman born and bred and my crime being a grave one, whereas the stocks were commonly regarded fo the common folk who had committed petty offenses, such as swearing of Sabbath breaking. I could not for some time realize it, and lay staring at Parson Downs, while he tried to force the Burgundy upon me and started i alarm at my paleness. "Why, confound it, Harry," he cried "I tell thee, lad, do not look so. Hadst thou killed Rob Waller instead of wounding him it would have been thy life instead of thy pride thou hadst forfeited."

"I wish to God I had!" I burst out yet dully, for still I only half realized

"Nay, Harry," declared the parson, "thy life is of more moment than thy pride, and as to that, what will it hurt thee to sit in the stocks an hour or so for such a cause? 'Twill be forgot it a week's time. I pray thee, have some Burgundy, Harry; 'twill put some life into thee."

"'Twill never be forgot by me," said I, and indeed it never has been, and I know not why it seemed then and seems now of a finer sting of bitterness than my transportation for theft.

Presently I, growing fully alive to the state of the matters, wrought up myself into such a fever of wrath and remonstrance that it was a wonder that my wounds did not open. I swore that submit to such an indignity I would not; that all the authorities in the colony should not force me to sit in the stocks; that I would have my life first, and I looked about wildly for my question of constitutional power to do own sword or pistols, and seeing them not besought the parson for his. He strove in vain to comfort me. I was weakened by my wounds and there was, I suppose, something of fever still lingering in my veins for all the bleedof colonization for the benefit of both ing, and for a space I was like a madthe free colored people already in the man at the thought of the ignominy to United States and the slave who might | which they would put me. I besought be liberated "at some place or places in that the lieutenant governor should be a climate congenial to them." He summoned and be petitioned to make my offense a capital one. I strove to rise from my couch, and the vague tion may involve the acquiring of ter- thought of finding a weapon and comritory, and also the appropriation of mitting some crime so grave that the money beyond that to be expended in stocks would be out of the question as the territorial acquisition. * * * On a punishment for it was in my fevered "As well go to a branch of a locust honey for all seeking noses as to -that without which the government | Chichely," said Parson Downs. "And as for the burgesses, they are afraid Awative How Lincoln would have been denounced for his ideas of colonization and expediency as the supreme law if in stocks than lose thy life, for we hold thy life dear. Harry, and some some of the orators now devoting their hold thy life dear, Harry, and some attention to Mckinley, Roosevelt, Hay punishment it must be for thee, for on every and Root had been vocal forty-five thou didst shoot a king's officer, though with a poor aim. Harry."

Then I safa again, with my heart like drum in my ears, that I wished it had against Robert Waller, and as I learned afterward he had striven all he dared for my release, but the militia, being under some suspicion themselves, had to act with caution in those days.

Presently, while the parson was yet with me, my brother John came in, and verily, for the first time, I realized that we were of one blood. Down on his knees beside me he went. "Oh, Harry," he cried, "I have done all that I could for thee, and vengeance Chapter I-Harry Wingfield, narrator of the I will have of some for this, and they shall suffer for it, that I promise thee colony of Virginia in 1682, and accompanies To fix such a penalty as this upon one of our blood!" "John," I whispered, grasping his hand hard, "I pray thee"-

But he guessed my meaning. "Nay Harry," he cried, "better this, for if I went back to our mother and told her that thou wert dead, after her long slight of thee and the long wrong we have all done thee, it would be a sorer fate for her than the stocks for thee.' But I pleaded with him by the common blood in our veins to save me from this ignominy, and my fever increased, and he knew not how to quiet me.

Then in came Catherine Cavendish, and what she said had some weight with "For shame!" she said, standing over me, with her face as white as death but with resolution in her eyes. "Fo shame, Harry Wingfield! Full easy i is to be brave on the battlefield, but i takes a hero to quail not when his van ity be assailed. Have not as good men as thou, and better, sat in the stocks: And think you that it will make any difference to us, except as we suffer with you? And 'tis harder for my poor sister than for thee, but she makes no complaint, nor sheds a tear, but goes about with her face like the dead and such a look in her eyes as never I saw there before. And she told me to say to thee that she could not come today but that she would make amends and that thou hadst no cause to overworry and I know not what she meant, bu this much I do know, a brave man i a brave man whether it be the scaffold or the stocks, and-and-thou hast got ten thyself into a fever, Harry." J. W., -Charles Sampson. T.,-Fred L. Jones. S., -Walter E. Simmons. It was voted to have a public intalation of the new officers. The new lodge rooms will also be dedicated by the Grand officers on Nov. 16. The only guests on this date will be the Grand officers and the masters and wardens of this Masonic district.

A committee on entertainment was appointed, and it is proposed to have several social gatherings this winter with the ladies as guests.

The lodge also has considerable work ahead, six candidates being elected at the meeting.

The master-elect, Mr. Prout, is young man and an enthusiastic Mason. He has the cooperation of active officers and the coming year should be a pros perous one for the lodge.

H. T. Pierce, the retiring master, entertained the officers of the lodge who have worked with him so faithfully during his three years, at a banquet at Hotel Greenleaf early in the FRANK F. CRANE, evening. A fine menu was spread, and it was a social occasion.

Under it the Conservative party, led by Robert L. Borden of Halifax, has maintained that freight traffic during the months that the St. Lawrence river is closed to nevigation would, under the government's plan, be shipped to Portland, Me., and Boston, instead of to this city and Halifax.

Portland is the Atlantic terminus of the Grand Trunk railroad, whose directors and officers are the promoters of the Grand Trunk Pacific enterprise. Portland has been a greater issue than Boston for this reason, and the Conservative newspapers and those opposcampaign arguments daily to impress would benefit from the construction of the proposed road, at the expense of Canadian cities.

The Liberal party depended largely on the prosperous condition of the country, believing that a government is never overthrown by the electorate during good times.

PARKER BOWED KNEE TO BAAL

Lifelong Democrat Reads Himself Out of Party, Denouncing Presidential Candidate.

[Tiffin Dispatch to Ohio State Journal.] Judge Allen Smalley of Upper Sanfor president from Douglas to Bryan, will not support Parker this year.

For a number of years past the Dem ocratic executive committee has invited Judge Smalley to participate in the speaking campaigns in Seneca county, and, in accordance with the custom, an invitation was extended to him. No reply was received, and a second invitation was extended. Secretary Milton Sayler of the Democratic executive committee is in receipt of the following letter from Judge Smalley:

The Real Parker.

[From the New York Mail.] When the campaign was opening Judge Parker counseled his party that nothing should be said "that reflects on the personal honor and integrity of the president." It was a weak man's act, himself to do the very thing he urged his friends not to do-an act which, unhappily, the country is coming to regard as characteristic of the Democratic presidential candidate. His charge that Roosevelt has sold out to the trusts and that his cabinet ministers are trust agents is dismissed as about the sort of thing that might have been expected from Parker. It is a sign of desperation as well as of weakness. The Democratic canvass, sinking in the swirl of defeat, clutches at the last straw.

Very full blouses are no longer worn by women who affect the latest style, but the waist that blouses all around over a deep girdle is quite the thing.

The present straight front corselet will have to be remodeled to meet the requirements of the new mode, which demands the round waist lines, a point the straight front entirely ignores.

The picture represents a shirt waist of the latest cut, which may be carried out successfully in any of the challies, voiles or soft silks of the season. The model pictured is made from peau de soie of the new peacock blue shade and hangs in plaits from a round yoke trimmed with stitched straps of silk and small bronze buttons.

Charges Against Him and Cortelyou Called Monstrous

But there is Parker against Roosevelt and Cortelnot one particle of truth in the statement as regards anything that has gone on in the management of the Republican campaign.

"Mr. Parker's accusations against Mr. Cortelyou and me are monstrous. If they would brand both of us forever with infamy; and inasmuch as they are Democratic candidate for governor, has Mr. Cortelyou as chairman of the national committee after having failed from headquarters of Mr. Douglas in successively to persuade Elihu Root, this city: "Mr. Douglas, owing to se W. ## FURNACE COLD.

People who live in furnace-heated houses may have noticed the prevalence of supposed colds, coughs and throat ailments immediately after the furnace has been started in the fall. As a matter of fact, experts declare that these epidemics are largely caused by the dust and germs which gather in the registers and hot-air pipes during the summer and are blown into the air of the house when the furnace is started. In addition to the ordinary dust, which is certain to settle in such places during the summer months, there is also danger that it may become impregnated with poisonous vapors from the cellar, which may be released by the current of hot air rising from the cellar. In view of the large number of houses which are heated by furnaces, the question of properly cleaning the pipes has an important influence on the health.-Healthy Home.

The dead man was classed as a laborer at $2 a day, and it recently was discovered that another man was drawing pay under his name.

When the matter was brought to the attention of Deputy Macksey ne looked at the last payroll sheet of district No. 8, of which Timilty is the foreman, and found that Patrick Craven's name was upon it. He then called Foreman Timilty up on the telephone and asked the latter if Patrick Craven was alive or dead. The reply was "dead." Judge Parker's persistence in gobbling flies in public begins to tickle the public sense of humor. One day the worthy candidate kills Filipinos by the hundred thousand and adds a round $450,000,000 to the expense account of the United States for his little brown brothers. Another day he bites ravenously at fairy tales about the suppression of free speech and liberty of the press and the existence of all around London, Nov. 5.—The Daily Mail's demoralization and deviltry in the foreman in the Albany street yard of son's temporary exclusion was voted. No concrete instances, no facts, no dates; just the ancient vague and customary charge. It might occur to Judge Parker that since the senate is to remain Republican, as he admits, the protected interests and the trusts can have no reason but their own inherent diabolism to contribute to the Republican campaign chest. Remembering how ruthlessly the Democratic protectionists in the senate disemboweled the Wilson tariff bill, nothing but an irresistible desire to spend money uselessly can make the trusts and protect

It is common knowledge that they have determined to furnish such a sum of money to the Republican national com-mittee as it is hoped will secure the "floaters" in the doubtful states for the Republican ticket. Common knowledge-that is, com-

Tom Watson, asked these questions of Judge Parker: How can he claim there is any difference between him and Roosevelt on the question of the trusts? Who financed his campaign for two years? " "As goes Quincy so goes the country and the State of Massachusetts. This has been true in the last seven Presidential elections and probably many more; also in the last fourteen State elections and probably more. During these years the Republicans have not always been successful. In 1884 and again in 1892 the Democratic candidate, Grover Clevelund, was elected President, and Quincy gave pluralities to Cleveland electors. The popular vote of the country in 1888 was close, only 98,017 apart, and the vote in Quincy was equally close, only 3 apart. Cleveland was elected by a Quincy gave him more, 32.

Drift of Opinion.

New York and Massachusetts offer a contrast in their treatment of the senatorship. Massachusetts has sent as successor to Senator Hoar the best man she could secure. New York politicans Endeavorers, and the Indian young are apparently going to treat the senatorship as a perquisite for some typical unit of their number, such as Black. Massachusetts is still a good deal more highly educated place than New York. The Empire State, however, can claim at least the credit of bartering its senatorships for partisan work and not for money, so that it is at least better than Mr. Addick's view of Delaware. Pennsylvania sent Quay to the senate, and the Pennsylvania railroad apparently selected his successor. Governor La Follette has been talked about for the senate, but he says that his present duties are at home. He would make a stir in Washington, not so much because he is an effective speaker as because he is a brilliant politican who thinks it better to remain the free representative of the people than to be retained by some special business or even partisan interest. He might make trouble for the oligarchy. It is rather a pity that Mr. Bryan's chance of going to the senate seems so slender. He would lend interest to a body in which discussion is not yet entirely obsolete. -Collier's Weekly.

World's Fair Illustrated.

The monthly meeting of Bethany Brotherhood will be held on Monday evening instead of Tuesday because of the Presidential election. A feature of the evening will be stereopticon views of the World's Fair at St. Louis, and a talk on the exposition by a Quincy gentleman who has visited it. About 100 views will be shown. A general invitation to all men of the city is extended. The admission is free and all will be welcome. The St. Louis fair far excelled all other World's Fairs, and some fine views will be shown.

CHAPTER XXII-(Continued).

Then Parson Downs, with an exclamation which might have sounded oddly enough if heard from the pulpit, but which may, after all, have done honor to his heart, fetched out a flask of brandy from his pocket and bade Will Wickett find a mug somewhere, which he did speedily, and he gave me a drink which put new life into me, though it was still out of the question for me to ride that fiery horse which just here I would like to say that I would doubtless have cost him his living, had I ridden across country on that famous horse of his. But he seemed not to think of that, but shook his

I can see now those knotted arms and writhing necks of strength and hear those quick pants of breath, and again it seems as then, a picture passing before my awful reality of shame. Then two young men danced for a pair of shoes, and the crowd gathered around them, and I was quite deserted and could scarcely see for the throng the rhythmic flings of heels and tosses of heads. But when that sport was over and the winner dancing merrily away in his new shoes the crowd gathered about me again, and in spite of my brother clods of mud began to fly, and urchins to tweak at my two extended feet.

Then that happened which verily mever happened before nor since in Virginia, and can never happen again, because a maid like Mary Cavendish can

And while I shrank back, thinking that here was the worst sting of all, like the sting of death, that she should see me thus, straight up to the stocks she came and gathering her blue and silver gown about her made her way in to my side and sat there, thrusting her two tiny feet, in their dainty shoes, two criminals.

And then I looked at her and would died on my lips, for in that minute I knew what love was and how it could

But presently I, looking at her, felt my strength failing me again, and her face grew dim and she drew my head to her shoulder and sat so facing the multitude, and such a shout went up as never was.

And first it was half derision, and Catherine and Cicely Hyde stood near us like bridesmaids, and my brother John kept his place. Then came Madam and all around the field waved fruit Judith Cavendish in a chair, and she was borne close to us through the throng and was looking forth with the tears running over her old cheeks and extending her hands as if in blessing. and she never after made any opposition to our union.

SETTLEMENT IN SIGHT

Fall River Operatives and Em-

ployes to Hold Conference Fall River, Mass., Nov. 5 .- After weeks of tireless effort, prominent business men of this city have practically arranged a conference between the cotton mill owners and representatives of the 26,000 operatives who are now on strike rather than submit to a reduction in their wages. Unless some thing unforeseen occurs the owners and the strikers will make a final effort to settle a difficulty which has been the cause of great suffering to hundreds of families and heavy financial losses to the manufacturers.

The final arrangements for the conference were not concluded until a late hour last night, but it is understood that the five secretaries of the various unions on strike will represent the operatives at the conference.

It has been stated many times of late by the operatives that the manufacturers have never submitted to them figures proving their inability to run the mills at a profit without reducing the wages of their employes. The mill men, it is now understood, have expressed themselves as willing to submit to their employes statistics to prove their contention.

BOSTON AMUSEMENTS.

BOSTON MUSIC HALL.

The first week of all star vaudeville at Boston Music hall proved successful beyond the most optomistic hopes of the management. The beauty the new auditorium excited exclamations of surprise and approval from all who entered. possible. Let all churches be represented—Eds. The pretty Rose du Barry red which forms the major color scheme gives just the proper touch to make the place warm and cheery. Still greater vaudeville will be offered next week. Haines and Vidocq, the men whose comedy conversation can only be likened to a Kansas cyclone in a way it sweeps all before it, will present their always acceptable specialty. To To hear Haines murmur "Ain't I a bad boy ' s worth the price of admission. Two of the brightest and best song and dance artists in the business are Genaro and Bailey who have not been seen in Boston for some time. Miss Bailey and her partner could entertain the average vaudeville audience a whole afternoon but their sketch is confied to 20 minutes thereby being truly " condensed fun." Venella's wor proved such a tremendous hit last week that that they will be retained for one week more. This does not constitute the whole bill. The balance will be announced in the Boston Sunday papers and includes acts equally as prominent as any of those listed above.

COLUMBIA MUSIC HALL.

Entirely new is everything at the Columbia Music hall this week. A clever burlesque, "The Japskys," forms the major portion of the bill. The play is a bright satire on current events in the East wherein is illumined the adventures of two Rusaian Hebrews in Corea. The first half of the evening is devoted to a most excellent vaudeville entertainment Johnson Rube." are uproarously funny; the three Poles create intense interest by their marvelous work on horizontal bars. A novelty is the dancing and singing of the Browning Sisters and their company. The balance of the time is pleasurweek a new builesque, already some weeks in rehearsal, Weber-Fields' "Fiddle-Dee-Dee," will Evening service at 7 o'clock. The fourth and be produced with a new company of firty people, last sermon of the present series on our "family and the olio will also be all new, the great sen- friends." Subject: "The Saviour." All are sational Adgi and her Lions heading the list. Smoking is being freely indulged in by patrons who have proven to their utter satisfaction that ventilation renders it entirely inoffensive. Ladies are making the daily matinees a rendezvous after shopping.

TREMONT THEATRE.

Henrietta Crosman, who opened last Monday n the Tremont, has arisen, through the mediun of the new Belasco play, "Sweet Kitty Bellairs," to a greater height than she has yet achieved, more definite notice may be expected until now it cannot be doubted that she is the queen of all American comediennes. In "Sweet that almost defies classification. It is old at 12 M. Junior League at 3.30 P. M comedy of the richest and rarest kind, full of Epworth League at 6 P. M. Evening service sparkle, wit and cutting epigram. It is, at other at 7 o'clock. Preaching by the pastor. Sub times, a drama of the most vigorous, telling ject: "The Naturalness of the Christian kind. It is, all in all, a deliciously captivating Life." Prayer meeting on Friday evening at work, that has secured the emphatic triumph 7.30. Every one invited. of the past season, and is destined to hold favor for itself and its brilliant and matchless star Braintree, Christian Science Hall on Washing throughout many a month to come. The past week in the Tremont has been a continuation of the New York triumph tor both David Belasco's great play and the charming artiste, Miss Crosman. The sale for the week has been so heavy that a special matinee was given on Wednesday. The out of town patronage was so big on last experience meeting. Reading room open Wednesday that a mid-week matinee will be a special feature during the remaining three weeks from 3 to 5 and Tuesday evenings with gentleupon the time of the rising of the curtain, 7.45, Sunday, to hear the farewell serm on of this being necessary because of the magnitude Rev. L. B. Hatch, a former pastor of of the production. Matinees begin at 2 c'clock.

CASTLE SQUARE THEATRE. A pleasing announcement is made by the new management of the Castle Square Theatre in the statement that J. M. Barrie's delightful comedy "The Professor's Love Story" will be given a production by the Castle Square stock company during the week beginning Monday, Nov. 7. It is dainty, light and wholesome-just what might have been expected of the writer, who easily holds the first rank among contempofary English humorists. The humor is much like that of the essays and sketches which have established Mr. Barrie's reputation. Indeed, the comic sub-plot is taken directly from "The Courting of T'nowhead's Bell," one of the most pleasing of "Auld Licht Idyls." Sandy reappears, while his rival in the protracted love affair is a characteristic Scotch booby named Pete, who takes the place of Sam'l Dickie. The humor of these incidents is even more effective in the play than in the tale.

Will Be Asked by the Granite Cutters in New Bill.

On Dec. 1, says the Herald, the several local granite cutters' unions in Boston, Quincy, Concord, N. H.; Guilford, Ct., and two small western granite centres, and also the national union office, will present notices to the granite cutting concerns in those places that changes in the agreements, which expire next spring, are desired. The changes asked for are chiefly perfecting clauses in the agreements, principally those in regard to work with machine

The union is to try and raise its minimum wage rate where it does not now conform to the standard minimum in other sections. The standard minimum of $3 a day will be insisted upon in all agreements. It will increase the pay of only a few men who are now the lowest paid of all. It is expected that the suggested changes will be accepted by the employers.

Textile Council Will Not Verify Manufacturers' Claims

BY A UNANIMOUS VOTE

Employers Wanted to Prove Claim That They Could Not Pay Rate of Wages In Effect Before Reduction Was Made

Fall River, Mass., Nov. 7.-By a unanimous vote the Textile Council refused to adopt the recommendation of its executive committee that a committee of five At the election tomorrow the polls be appointed to verify the statements will be open from 6 A. M. until 4 P. M. of the cotton manufacturers that they were unable to pay the rate of wages ago today.

At a conference Saturday between a committee of the manufacturers and the executive committee of the Textile Council it was arranged that, subject to the consent of the Manufacturers' association and the Textile Council, a committee of five be appointed to verify the claims of the manufacturers that they could not pay the rate of wages in effect before the reduction of 12% per of this committee were chosen by the and the fifth by the other four.

The Textile Council was in session for more than three hours Sunday afternoon and the report of the executive committee regarding the proposed ac tion was carefully discussed. The report of the committee was accepted. but by a unanimous vote the proposition was rejected. The members of the Textile Council declared that the prop osition was not sufficiently definite.

After yesterday afternoon's meeting one of the members of the Textile Council said that the council was not dis posed to adopt any proposition unless they were sure that the great body of the operatives would approve it. Be fore the strike was declared the Textile Council voted to accept the proposed wage reduction under protest, but the operatives refused to do this and voted to strike. At .ne present time, there fore, the council is unwilling to take any step that may be offensive to the operatives.

The executive committee of the Tex tile Council will meet the manufacturers' committee this afternoon, and at that time will submit a counter propos ition which was suggested at yester day's meeting of the Textile Council. The labor leaders refuse, however, to give any intimation as to the nature of

NO LARGE WAGERS

Leaders of Both Great Parties Appear to Be Confident

ELECTORAL VOTE OF 476

Cortelyou Says That Roosevelt Will Have 314, While Democrats Claim 270 Votes--Predictions of a Landslide

New York, Nov. 7 .- There was no extreme activity about political headquarters Sunday, but the campaign managers were alert and watching the close | said: of the campaign with great interest. The Democratic national committee issued a statement claiming with confidence the election of Judge Parker, and also making assertions about the campaign fund of the Republican party. Chairman Cortelyou, although shown a copy of the statement, would make no comment further than to repeat the claim made Saturday night that Mr. Roosevelt would have 314 of the 476 votes in the electoral college. The Democrats claim 270 votes.

About the hotels where politicians usually gather and where great interest was the same quiet that has marked the progress of the canvass. A few groups in eafes discussed the situation and expressed opinions on the result, but there was no excitement nor offers to wager any large sums, which has been a feature of previous elections.

be a landslide for the candidate they supported. The wide difference in the estimates of the two committees and the confidence which the managers of both parties expressed caused little

There was also discussion upon the newspaper polls and they were endorsed or discredited according to the party bias of the person who gave an opinion. Both committees received reports during the day from lieutenants in the field and both claimed that the reports bere out their predictions of success and caused their respective partisans to declare with increased confidence their belief in the election of the candidate they supported.

Judge Parker, who closed his tour of speeches at Brooklyn Saturday evening, remained in New York until 6 o'clock, when he left for Esopus. After his arrival there he was in consultation with the Democratic managers here concerning the situation and developments

No special plans have been made by either committee for today, but they will be in close communication with party managers in the debatable states and the last final suggestions for Tuesday's work will be made.

Connecticut went Democratic in 1892, 1888. 1884 and 1876 and has seven electoral votes.

In the campaigns of 1896 and 1900 these states ceased to be pivotal on the presidency; but because of the reorganization of the Democratic party and the elimination of the question of free silver they are once more regarded by both parties as doubtful.

West Virginia went Democratic in 1888, 1884, 1880 and 1876 and may go to the Democrats this year because of the fact that it has ex-Senator Davis as the vice-presidential candidate.

Maryland and Delaware have also been Democratic until the free silver movement and are counted upon to return to the party fold this year.

Confidence on Beth Sides

Boston, Nov. 7 .- At the headquarters of both the great parties confidence was expressed in the ultimate result of the election. The Democrats, while admitting that Roosevelt will carry the state by a large plurality, claim that Douglas will be elected governor over Governor Bates, the Republican candidate for re-election. The Democrats claim further that they will elect five members of congress. The Republican leaders say that Roosevelt will receive a plurality of from 60,000 to 75,000, and that Governor Bates will be re-elected, although running beaind his ticket to Strong, True, Unswerving and Conservative Is President Roosevelt.

Has Been Before the Public More Than Twenty-five Years-People Love Him.

[From J. Sloat Fassett's speech in the New York state convention.]

But after the chief issue in the pres ent canvass the chief figure looming Miss Almira Simmons of South up foremost in the picture, the central mark for the most persistent and aggressive assaults of the opposition, is the commanding figure of our own candidate for the presidency. For many months, in many ways, by direct assault and indirect intimation, it has been the continuous and aggressive purpose of the Democratic campaign managers to convince the American people that Theodore Roosevelt was an unsafe man; that he was impetuous and headstrong; that he was willful and perverse; that he was strenuous and iconoclastic. From his vigorous and altogether wholesome writings they have assembled garbled extracts and separate paragraphs to enforce their argument. Men who have themselves openly and defiantly shattered two amendments to the constitution intimate that the constitution is unsafe in the hands of our president. Unable to shake the faith of the people in the results of Republican policies, the attempt is making to shake the confidence of the people in the reliability of this disposition on the part of the Democracy to get away from principles and resort to personalities with perfect equanimity and complete confldence. Theodore Roosevelt is not a new man. He is not an unknown factor. For more than twenty-five years he has lived in the bright glare of the ever rob her of her well earned honors limelight of publicity. We have known him as boy and youth and man.

THE KEARSARGE.

THE KEAKSARUD.

Today the Anniversary of Her Arrival after Great Victory.

It was forty years ago, June 19, 1864, Will Require Four Columns the Kearsarge met the Alabama in a naval fight and in plain sight of thousands of Confederate sympathiziers on the heights of Cherbourg, France, sent her to the bottom in 65 minutes. The Kearsarge was a Yankee product, built Kearsarge was a Yankee product, built at Portsmouth N. H., from which place she sailed on her first cruise, which lasted three years, on Feb. 5, Boston was the first United States port she ever made after leaving Portsmouth, and from Boston she started on the Kearsarge had a single mission-to look out for Confederate cruisers.

On her first immortal cruise that was her chief business. After sinking the Alabama the fight was at an end-and

The fair in aid of the National Sailors' Home at Quincy was in progress and the Kearsarge was hauled alongside of Long's wharf and visitors were admitted on payment of 25 cents, the proceeds going to the benefit of the Electors of President and Vice President, Home in this city. Thousands of people availed themselves of the opportunity to see her.

For 32 years she was kept in commission, nearly all the time showing our flag all over the world, until one stormy night, Friday, Feb. 2, 1894, she the Republican leader. We can accept was wrecked on Roncador reef and her grave was in the ocean's bed over which she had sailed so long. It was a fit ending to a noble career, infinitely preferable to rotting at the docks.

Another and a very different ship now bears her name, but no ship will

HOSPITAL WEEK.

Collectors Will Visit All Houses of City for Funds

Hospital week this year begins Wednesday, November 9th and lasts until Wednesday, Nov 16th. This annual house to house collection in aid of the City Hospital will be in charge of Mr. James F. ## FURNACE COLD.

People who live in furnace-heated houses may have noticed the prevalence of supposed colds, coughs and throat ailments immediately after the furnace has been started in the fall. As a matter of fact, experts declare that these epidemics are largely caused by the dust and germs which gather in the registers and hot-air pipes during the summer and are blown into the air of the house when the furnace is started. In addition to the ordinary dust, which is certain to settle in such places during the summer months, there is also danger that it may become impregnated with poisonous vapors from the cellar, which may be released by the current of hot air rising from the cellar, In view of the large number of houses which are heated by furnaces, the question of properly cleaning the pipes has an important influence on the health.-Healthy Home.

CAUTION.

It has been stated before by different authorities that a large per cent. of the throat and lung trouble in the winter months, in the northern states, was caused by the hot, dry, dusty | the bursting of the boiler and the the deed. He recommended, however, air from the hot-air furnace and registers. To avoid this danger use the more modern method of HOT WATER, or STEAM HEAT, properly installed by

Russians Beaten Back In Hand to Hand Conflict -- Superb Climax to Engagement Which Drove an Effective Wedge Into Russian Center

Chicago, Nov. 7 .- A special to the Chicago Daily News from Dalny, says: After three days of continuous bomright wing of the Japanese army as- the gates, pending the result of the insaulted Shojusan last Saturday after- quiry. noon. Having carried the approaches of the forts. In the evening the left wing delivered an assault on Kekwan, fighting its way to the lower parapet.

stubbornly in the face of Russian counter attacks to hand conflicts ensued. The Japanese beat back the enemy and destroyed two covered positions in the front moat. A Japanese sub-lieutenant with 30 volunteers then succeeded fort. There he engaged in a personal killed him. Having discovered two very effective. more defences in the rear moat, the sub-lieutenant withdrew his force with the loss of two men.

There the Japanese held the ground

Later in the night the advanced position of the Japanese was taken and re-taken twice. The besiegers succeeded in holding the approaches and constructing trenches, connecting them with the army's front parallel. At dawn numbers of dead were visible on the slopes. Fort P. north of the new and old batteries, in the left centre of the line of defense, was captured by the severe fighting of the night.

These operations have driven an effective wedge into the Russian center. Severe explosions and extensive fires have occurred in the fortress within the last few days. The total casualties of the Japanese in the late attacks were 1100. Over 500 were killed up to Oct. 29. The spirit of the men is magnificent. The firing of all the guns is wonderfully effective.

Plans to Regain Children

Brooklyn, Nov. 8 .- Mrs. Florence Maybrick is preparing in the home of Dr. Helen Densmore a history of the famous "Maybrick case," by which she intends to prove to the world that no stigma attaches to her name. But dearer to her than this universal vindication is the hope that, if won, it will bring back to her her two children, a beautiful girl, now 18, and a youth of 24. They still believe their mother guilty, and she has not seen them since she was thrust into prison, more than 15 years ago.

West Virginia Made 22.146 Knots Washington, Nov. 8.-Secretary Morton has received an official report that the armored cruiser West Virginia maintained an average speed, as corrected for tidal currents, of 22.146 knots an hour for four consecutive hours at her recent trial over the measured course off Cape Ann, exceeding by .146 of a knot the speed called for in the contract with her builders.

Children Out of Harm's Reach New York, Nov. 8 .- Fire destroyed the dining and recreation room of the West Brighton, L. I. Only a few morents before the flames were discovsyed the 175 children had finished their luncheon and marched to the recreation grounds. The loss is $8000.

The Chairman of School Committee.

Holds Him Responsible on Willard School Lot Matter.

A few days ago the School Committee awoke to the fact that the larger part of the Willard school lot at West Quincy had passed under control of the Metropolitan Park Commissioners, and that it would become a part of the Metropolitan parkway from Quincy to the Blue Hills reservation.

Chairman Porter was directed to obtain further light from the Mayor, and in reply to a letter Mayor Bryant writes

Representative Fallon in a Carriage Accident Yesterday.

Representative Fallon was thrown from his carriage in front of Music Hall block Monday afternoon. He was crossing the tracks to clear a car when the wheels of his carriage either got caught in the car tracks or he collided with a city team. The result was a smashed wheel and the throwing of Mr. Fallon to the ground. He was taken up unconscious and carried to the home of Andrew W. Gardner where he was attended by a physician. He received several bad cuts and bruises, but not of a serious nature. He was later taken to his home.

Midnight Accident.

Dr. Souther, the Veterinary, met with quite a serious accident at West Quincy Monday night. He was driving through Crescent street near midnight when something went wrong and he was thrown out. Neighbors who went out found him on the ground with his buggy on top of him, while a little was off stood his horse. He was taken into the house of Arthur Morrisset and a physician summoned. #### Brotherhood Meeting.

The regular monthly meeting of Bethany Church Brotherhood was held Monday evening. A goodly number attended the business meeting and between fifty and sixty listened to a very interesting address on the St. Louis World's Fair by Frank F. Prescott of the Quincy Daily Ledger. Mr. Prescott's address contained much thought and gave evidence of time spent in preparation. Nearly one hundred excellent views were thrown on the screen by Melville P. Hayward. The Brotherhood take pleasure in recommending Mr. Prescott's address to other societies.

Light refreshments were served an general good time was enjoyed. A vote of thanks was extended to both Mr. Prescott and Mr. Hayward.

The next meeting of the brotherhood will be held the second Tuesday of December, at which time Judge Emmons of Boston will give an adquested to forward forthwith to the dress. All men of the city are cordially invited to these meetings. W. F. Sidelinger, Siamese food principally consists of dried, frequently rotted, fish and rice done into curries which comprise a little of about every kind of condiment and especially a very popular sauce called namphrik, a chutney-like and 'thoroughly mixed thing sade of red pepper, shrimp, garlic, onlons, citron, ginger and tamarind seeds. The only reason for the fish being putrid is because the natives like it so, for fish are plentiful in their rivers and fishermen numerous, though their ways of catching are rather amusing and antique One favorite method, borrowed from the Chinese, is beating the waters with long bamboo sticks to frighten the fish into an eight or ten foot squarish net which is lowered into the river from a framework on the bank by a system of wheels and ropes and pulleys and hoisted up again when the catch is complete. I must confess that when Pearl street, uincy, Mass. the fish in the curry chanced to be dried instead of decayed I found the concoction decidedly toothsome. In far east to get it at its best. Curious Food Laws That Obtained In the South Sea Islands.

A singular distinction was established between the sexes in accordance with the general savage theory of the inferiority, social and otherwise, of the female, which is found to have prevailed universally in the south sea islands at the time of their discovery and for long afterward during a period covered by the early missionary voyages and labors. Setting aside cannibal feasts at the end of a successful war expedition, when captives and victims were abundant and were roasted and devoured, the usual food of the men of these islands in ordinary circumstances was hog's flesh, with a variety of fish from the surrounding ocean, together with cocoanuts and plantains, but the women were forbidden to eat or touch the provisions sacred to male consumption, and an infringement of this usage was rarely overlooked, but met with the penalty

The system of food taboo denied, under the same penalty, to the sex the use of the fire at which the warrior's meal was prepared, the house in which his provisions were stored. Such items of food as native custom assigned to the women were preserved by them fire and devoured in solitude in a little

Douglas, 35,645.

The latest returns from the election n Massachusetts give Douglas a plurality of 35,645 and Roosevelt a plurality of 86,086. All returns have been received except from the town of Gosnold which cast about thirty votes. The next Senate will be comprised of 34 Republicans and 6 Democrats, while the lower branch will be composed of 168 Republicans, 71 Democrats and

For the first time for several years the Socialist party will have no representative in the Legislature of 1905.

The Returns.

The returns were received at City Hall in fairly good season and at 10.35 every ward was complete except Ward Five. This ward is not divided into of the 889 on the voting list the returns were late. At 11.15 word was received that the election officers had completed their duties and that the returns would arrive at City Hall on the next car. The next car arrived at 11.50, and at 11.55 the officer came into City Hall with the official returns.

At that time everybody about the hall had gone with the exception of City Clerk Keith and the reporters and they did not tarry long after the City Clerk read off the official figures.

During the early part of the evening the corridor was packed with people stretching their necks to get a look at the window in front of the City Messenger's office where the returns of the city were bulletined as fast as re-

The crowd as a whole was orderly, although it would occasionally break into a shout as some favorable returns were received.

People who live in furnace-heated houses may have noticed the prevalence has been started in the fall. As a matter of fact, experts declare that these epidemics are largely caused by the dust and germs which gather in the the house when the furnace is started. In addition to the ordinary dust, which is certain to settle in such places during the summer months, there is also danger that it may become impregnated with poisonous vapors from the cellar, which may be released by the current of hot air rising from the cellar.

In view of the large number of houses which are heated by furnaces, the #### disposes of the stories that W. J. Bryan had aspirations for a United States senatorship. In this state, too, the governorship is in doubt, and it will require official returns to determine who is elected. Both sides claim a victory.

There is a curious situation in Minnesota, where Roosevelt secured 125,000 plurality, but where a Democratic governor and a Republican lieutenant governor were elected. The election of a Democratic governor is the second in the history of the state. Chairman Babcock of the Republican congressional committee was returned to congress from Wisconsin, but Chairman Cowherd of the Democratic congressional committee was defeated in

The situation in Colorado presents an interesting phase. Roosevelt has carried the state by probably 15,000, but the governorship is still in doubt, both sides claiming a victory.

Ambassador Meyer May Take His Place, Though Not as Attorney General -- Changes Coming In Diplomatic Service

Washington, Nov. 10 .- Some important changes will be made on or before March 4. Twelve years is a long time for one set of officers in the executive departments, and now that nurse? eight of these have passed, there will probably be something of a shake-up.

John Hay will not leave the state de partment. This may be stated on the highest authority. Nothing but a serious failure of his health would make the president willing to consider Hay's retirement, and although he is not rugged, there is every reason to believe that he will be able to continue in his national policy. ## FURNACE COLD.

People who live in furnace-heated houses may have noticed the prevalence of supposed colds, coughs and throat ailments immediately after the furnace has been started in the fall. As a matter of fact, experts declare that these epidemics are largely caused by the dust and germs which gather in the registers and hot-air pipes during the summer and are blown into the air of the house when the furnace is started. In addition to the ordinary dust, which is certain to settle in such places during the summer months, there is also danger that it may become impregnated with poisonous vapors from the cellar, which may be released by the current of hot air rising from the cellar. In view of the large number of houses which are heated by furnaces, the question of properly cleaning the pipes has an important influence on the health.-Healthy Home.

CAUTION.

The above article is from a reliable source, and we do not believe the danger from this

It has been stated before by different authorities that a large per cent. of the throat and ung trouble in the winter months, in the northern states, was caused by the hot, dry, dusty air from the hot-air furnace and registers. To avoid this danger use the more modern method of HOT WATER, or STEAM HEAT, properly installed by

Lansdowne Thinks Far Eastern Vote in Braintree. War Could Be Settled

A BID FOR INTERVENTION

Utterances of Foreign Minister at London Lord Mayor's Banquet Regarded as a Plea In Corregan, S. L. 2 Behalf of Russia

London, Nov. 10.-Lord Lansdowne, Roosevelt, R. in the absence of Premier Balfour at Swallow, P. the historic lord mayor's banquet, held Watson, P. P. last night, made a strong plea for peace and arbitration on behalf of the British Adams, S. government. Lord Lansdowne pointed Bates, R. out to a large and rather unsympathetic Berry, S. UTTER TO BE GOVERNOR

Wins Over Garvin In Rhode Island by Plurality of 594

Providence, Nov. 10.-The election was so closely contested that it was not until yesterday that a Republican victory for governor was assured. Governor Garvin being defeated for a third term by George H. Utter, the Re-

Complete returns for governor show that Utter defeated Garvin, Democrat. by 594 plurality. The vote was: Utter, 38,635; Garvin, 33,041; Carney, Soc. 652; Brightman, Pro., 964; McDermott, S-L, 501. With the exception of the Socialist party, all the gubernatorial candidates polled larger votes than last year.

Complete returns for president give: Roosevelt, 40,898; Parker, 24,924; Roosevelt's plurality, 15,974.

D. L. D. Granger (Dem.) defeated J. H. Stiness (Rep.) by the margin of about 300 in the First congressional district in an intensely interesting contest. A. B. Capron (Rep.) was reelected in the Second district easily.

This will mean the defeat of United States Senator Cockrell for re-election. It is impossible to predict with any degree of certainty the outcome when the official vote is received, but it appears that the entire Republican state ticket, ex-1 zept governor, is elected by small majorities, and that the election of Mr.

169 Folk is a great personal record victory. Congressman Charges Fraud Baltimore, Nov. 10 .- On the face of the returns of the votes cast on Tuesday received thus far Maryland is Re-240 publican on the presidential ticket by a small majority. An official count may 173 be required to decide the result. Three Republican congressmen are surely elected by material majorities. Three Democrats are also elected. Congressman Jackson (Rep.) claims that fraud or trick ballots were used in the First district, and says that he will contest the seat before the house of repre-155 sentatives.

In Davis' Home State

Parkersburg, W. Va., Nov. 10.-West Virginia seems to have kept pace with the rest of the union at Tuesday's elec-169 tion. The Democrats concede that Roosevelt has carried the state by over 10,000, while the Republicans claim that Roosevelt's majority will be the largest ever given to any candidate by 222 the state and may exceed 30,000. The 212 Democrats have not conceded the election of Dawson, the Republican nominee for governor, although his election is claimed by the Republicans by over 610 20,000.

Omaha, Nov. 10 .- Probably complete returns will be required to determine who is elected governor of Nebraska. Outside of governor, however, the Republicans have made a clean sweep on national, state and congressional and legislative tickets. President Roosevelt carried the state by probably 75.000. Carried by Compromise Ticket Wilmington, Del., Nov. 10.-Complete returns give Roosevelt a plurality of 4100 in Delaware. Lea, the Republican compromise candidate for governor, carried the state by a plurality of 28,000 and the remainder of the Republican compromise state ticket has a plurality averaging from 3700 to 3800.

Contest In Colorado Denver, Nov. 10 .- Roosevelt's plu rality in Colorado has been increased by later returns and may run above 15,000. Republicans and Democrats claim the election of governor and congressman and the Republicans threaten to contest the state election on the grounds of alleged frauds in Denver. Great Gains In Ohio

Columbus, O., Nov. 10 .- Almost com plete returns indicate that the Republican plurality in Ohio is between 210, 000 and 215,000, or over three times the plurality this state ever gave any national ticket. About a dozen counties have been carried by the Republicans for the first time.

The Pennsylvania Landside Philadelphia, Nov. 10.-Returns thus far show the remarkable increase in Roosevelt's plurality over the estimated returns of Tuesday night of more than 25,000 votes. If the present ratio continues President Roosevelt's plurality in this state will reach nearly 490,000.

Milwaukee, Nov. 10.-The result of the election in Wisconsin shows that Roosevelt carried the state by a plurality estimated at between 60,000 and 75,000 and that Governor La Follette

FURNACE COLD.

People who live in furnace-heated houses may have noticed the prevalence of supposed colds, coughs and throat ailments immediately after the furnace has been started in the fall. As a matter of fact, experts declare that these epidemics are largely caused by the dust and germs which gather in the registers and hot-air pipes during the summer and are blown into the air of the house when the furnace is started. In addition to the ordinary dust, which is certain to settle in such places during the summer months, there is also danger that it may become impregnated with poisonous vapors from the cellar, which may be released by the current of hot air rising from the cellar. In view of the large number of houses which are heated by furnaces, the question of properly cleaning the pipes has an important influence on the health.-Healthy Home.

CAUTION.

The above article is from a reliable source, and we do not believe the danger from this ause is over estimated.

It has been stated before by different authorities that a large per cent. of the throat and lung trouble in the winter months, in the northern states, was caused by the hot, dry, dusty air from the hot-air furnace and registers. To avoid this danger use the more modera method of HOT WATER, or STEAM HEAT, properly installed by

New York Republicans Are Laying Their Plans

BLACK IS THE FAVORITE

He May Be Elected by the Retirement of Platt or Making Depew Ambassador to England to Succeed Choate

Albany, Nov. 11.-Former Governor Black of Troy will be elected United States senator from this state by the legislature of 1905 unless the unexpected happens. Senator Depew, within the past 10 days, is said to have received assurances which will bring about this result. Just what this will be the senator's friends refuse to disbe appointed ambassador to the court | ried everything, and, according to these of St. James to succeed Joseph H. tive of this country in England since pletely. the first administration of President McKinley and who, it is said, desires to be relieved from further diplomatic

Another theory of solution is that Senator Platt, who is bowed by age and infirmities, may resign and leave a clear field for the election of Black and the re-election of Depew. Matters have not developed sufficiently to warrant a conclusion being drawn as to the means which may be adopted to avoid a conflict on this matter.

In the meantime it is evident that the friends of Platt are preparing to appear in the court each day to make protect his interests. The first evi- the payment. There is no doubt but that Platt on that occasion will discuss with the men who have been faithful will pursue in case of a contest over Depew's re-election.

and Platt visited Governor Odell in mails for a lottery scheme. New York some time prior to election and requested him to state his position on the United States senatorship he would not commit himself to any candidate and declined to say that he would support Depew for re-election. It is also learned that when Governor-elect cessor he replied that his choice was one of the United States senators representing this state to be in close touch 24.2 bushels. with him and his interests.

proached by Odell on the former's aceptance of election if he were decided upon as the man, suggested to the latter that he take it himself and that Odell replied that he did not want it, but that he did want Black as his personal representative in the national Capitol.

Odell controls, as has been demonstrated on many occasions, a majority of the Republican organization leaders, and if the story that Higgins favors the election of Black is true, there seems to be little question as to the result of the contest if it were conducted along the lines of an open fight. This condition, coupled with the report that matters had been determined to the satisfaction of Depew, strengthens the conclusion that Black may be elected and Depew either made ambassador to Great Britain or retained in his present place, Platt resigning and Black succeeding him.

A friend of Governor Black's states that the governor has told men in close touch with him that while it would mean a sacrifice of money of his extensive law practice, and would necessitate a greater sacrifice of time than he would like to give to public matters, yet, in view of the conditions which have developed in the party organization, he did not see how he could decline the election if it were offered him.

Presidential Vete In Doubt Baltimore, Nov. 11 .- The official election returns indicate that the vote for the presidential candidates was very close-possibly 100 on either side. #### BREAKFAST IN ENGLAND.

The Evolution From Ale and Wine to the Modern Meal.

According to the Oxford Dictionary, 1463 is the date of the earliest mention of breakfast, but until a century ago it consisted only of a draft of ale or tea or chocolate. There were only two meals a day-dinner, ranging from 9 o'clock in the morning in the fifteenth century to noon in the seventeenth, and supper, which similarly advanced from 5 in the afternoon to 7 o'clock. Pepys, for instance, went down to the admiralty at 4 and 5 in the morning on no other breakfast than half a pint of wine or a dram of cordial. But in the eighteenth century dinner was gradually postponed until 5 or 6 o'clock in the afternoon. When it passed midday breakfast became a necessity and a meal. Before this hunger had demanded the addition of bread and some such relish as radishes to the morning draft.

But when, a hundred years ago, cold meats and fish began to be served at breakfast the utmost surprise was expressed. Its novelty made it fashionable and led to the giving of breakfast parties. Eleven or 12 o'clock was the hour, and it was declared to be par excellence the meal for poets. Tom Moore was an inveterate breakfaster and after the trencher work sung for the company's entertainment.

Breakfast finally became an institution, as a necessary oasis in the long forth hearty applause. Mrs. E. C. stretch between supper overnight and dinner the next afternoon. The reason for this seeming vandalism is perfectly plain or ought to be The cat requires green food if it is to be kept healthy and happy and takes the shortest road to getting it.

In summer, following this need of its system, a cat will eat grass freely. In winter or in the city, when this supply of green fodder is cut off, common sense suggests that the cat be ar tificially provided with it.

For its own sake as well as for the safety of the Boston fern and the rubber plant, why not plant a cigar box of soil with some quick growing thing like oats on sorrel and let the cat help

It will soon realize the glad fact that the plants are meant for it, as proved by the fact that indulgence brings no aftermath of slaps or scoldings.

entitled to be called the throne, as being the one occupied by the sovereign at his or her coronation. Others maintain that the throne in the house of lords is really the official throne, as it purposes at the opening of parliament. Others again say that there is no real throne in the strictest acceptation of the word and that all the thrones or chairs of state in the various palaces throughout the kingdom are equally entitled to be called "the throne," inasmuch as they are used as such when the sovereign happens to be in residence at that particular palace and holds any levee or other strictly official reception. The most general opinion, however, seems to be that the throne in the house of lords is really entitled to be called "the throne of England."

Pluck and Success. An argument against discouragement after repeated failures is offered by the life of George Frederick Watts, the great English painter. That he was quite the most important of Great Britain's artists is now everywhere admitted, yet his merit was not generally recognized until after he had passed his sixtieth birthday. Before he died he said, with a smile, that he had never been discouraged once in spite of all the unjust criticism and, more maddening still, the utter indifference with which his pictures were received until after he had begun to descend the hill toward the valley of

TO MAKE A FAN BAG.

Please a Girl. For those who often go to theaters and parties a fun bag is indispensable and makes a most acceptable present. is held. The ribbons are finished off with a rosette bow at each end. The edges of the lining are turned in to face each other, the sides sewed together and an edging of lace or gathered ribbon sewed on all round. The bottom of the bag is gathered up and a long looped bow of ribbon sewed on.

A pretty idea is to embroider the monogram of the recipient on one side of the bag, leaving the other to be decorated with a long trailing design.

One fan bag in white satin which was a wedding gift suggested use when the bridal gown became a ball dress. The design was a spray of myrtle with half opened buds and flowers. A twisted ribbon confined three plumes which were outlined in Japanese gold thread and the softer parts worked in filoselle. The ribbons on the bag repeated the myrtle green in the bows, and the long ribbons were white satin It was an extremely dainty affair. Another dainty bag is of black satin covered with gorgeous hued butterflies. Half a yard of satin or silk will make a bag, while three yards of ribbon are required, two lengths of six inches each being necessary for running the draw strings in. The amount of material is not large, and in these days of lovely remnants a small sum will suffice to make a really exquisite bag.

Gift For a Bachelor.

The newest chair cushion is heart shaped, and it is a handsome Christmas gift for a bachelor. The pattern is quite easy to cut. Fold a piece of newspaper measuring eighteen inches by seventeen inches in half lengthwise. It is ornamented with an I long for a jaunt on the hillsides applique design in cretonne of red and pink poppies. The applique must be done first. For this cut out a pretty spray of large flowers from a piece of cretonne and tack it in the center of the heart shaped piece of silk, which Sweet visions of nature's wild orchards should first be lined. Then buttonhole all around with floss silk.

A Present For Grandmother. A pretty spectacle case is quite easy to contrive if the maker of Christmas gifts is possessed of nimble fingers and a little patience. Here cardboard must be called into requisition, and two good sized oval pieces cut, which should then be neatly covered with black velvet, lined with colored silk and afterward joined together, the Oh, all weary brothers in cities, outer edge being finished with a little harrow gold cord.

Since the mobilization of the Japanese army commenced there has not been, I believe, so much as one case of a reservist deliberately attempting to evade the call to arms. It is a record of practical patriotism.

"The samurai's doctrine is that there can be no halfway house on the road of loyal courage. Once admit the principle of surrender, and the limits of its application become impossible to set. Life then takes the form of a thing to be saved whenever salvation is possible and mortal peril a thing to be avoided wherever avoidance is practicable. A creed of that utilitarian type is regarded as incompatible with attainment of the highest standard of soldierly efficiency."

WOMEN CHURCH BUILDERS. How They Are Helping Men In Night

Labor at Kansas City, Kan. In order to build a new $20,000 church the women members of the North Side Christian church in Kansas City, Kan., are working with the men by torchlight, handling pick and shovel vigorously, says a Kansas City (Mo.) special dispatch to the Chicago Record-Herald. The work is being done largely by night, so as not to interfere with the regular vocations of the workers, who gather each evening and under the direction of the pastor dig, wheel earth and carry stones to be used next day by the stone masons. At first the women brought hot lunch for the men at midnight. The sight of the men at work induced them to try it. They began to dig a little and soon were working as hard as the men. They offered to work on regular shifts. as the men do, but this idea has been discouraged. So enthusiastic are all the workers that one young man on a recent Saturday night labored an hour past midnight and so broke the Sabbath. He confessed to the pastor Sunday and per month.

The Call of the Woods. When the desk seems a prison of ledgers And the fingers are cramped from the pen.

And a stroll in the forest glen; I long for a glimpse of the thickets, Where the berries hang fragrant and good, And the squirrel is busy at harvest In the heart of the autumnal wood!

Drift in o'er blotters and books, And we pine for a glimpse of the wild-wood, For the crimson and gold flecked brooks. The call of the quall in the brambles
Is good to the townsman's ear,
And I'd stand by the lithe limbed wood-

Away with the counting of spoils! I'll hie for a day to the wildwood And swing in the grapevine coils.

Carpets, Rugs, Upholstery

Assortment the Largest, Prices the Lowest for Quality Offered.

Our bargains are made by marking down our own stock to a low price, not by purchasing inferior goods to make an attractive price.

It is a mistake to infer that we carry only high-priced fabrics. We have medium grades as well, and our prices are low because our expenses are proportioned over a volume of business exceeded by few in our specialty in the United States, and equaled by none in New England.

Various things contributed to Johnson's success, but one of the most important was the retempt to discredit him because his mother had taken in washing. Johnson's father had indeed been in a poorhouse, but he had been put there by friends of the family for the latter's sake. Johnson's mother was obliged to take in washing to keep her family from starving, and her son, then 10 years old, ...ad left school to go to work to help support his mother.

ELECTION OF FOLK

It Is Much More Important Than Appears on Surface

TO BE NO REDISTRICTING

National House Would Be Surely Republican For a Decade Had a Republican Been Chosen Governor of Missouri

Washington, Nov. 12.-Original Republicans point to the fact that but for Joseph W. Folk's personality there would be a change in prospect which would mean a difference not far from 25 seats in the national house of representatives over what seemed probable when the decade began. The Missouri Democrats, after the census of 1900, divided the state so as to make 15 Democratic districts and one Republican.

They intended to make the Bartholdt district in St. Louis the only Republican one in the state, and to that end put nearly 300,000 population into it, as against 142,000 in Shackleford's Democratic district at Jefferson City and 152,000 in the district of Butler in St. Louis. The elections of 1902 occurred according to expectations, and Bartholdt was the solitary Republican congressman from that state.

The legislature has now gone Republican, and the constitution of the state declares that "senatorial and representative districts may be altered from time to time, as public convenience may require." This would be one of the times but for the veto power of the Democratic governor, and any other man than Folk would obviously have gone down in the tide. But for him, Roosevelt's majority would have probably run up to 40,000.

It is assumed here that Folk, highminded and courageous as he is, could not afford to approve a bill redistricting the state, when its failure would leave operative an arrangement that in normal times is so highly favorable to his party. He has a veto, which only a two-thirds vote in each house can over-

ARTISTS IN DANGER Saved From Burning Building After Escape Was Cut Off

Boston, Nov. 12 .- The large build ing known as the Harcourt studios, running from Irvington to Harcourt streets, and occupied by the Hutchings-Votey Organ company, George H. Walker, publisher and lithographer, the Blanchard Machine company, the CAPITALIZED AT $200,000 Pennsylvania Metal company, and about 30 artists' studios, was completely destroyed by fire late last night, of the artists slept in the building, and several of them were asleep when the fire broke out, and were rescued by means of ladders by the firemen. So far as known, all escaped without in-

The fire was first discovered in the basement of the machine company's premises, the janitor of the building having been awakened by the smoke which permeated his sleeping quarters. He hurriedly aroused the sleeping inmates, but before all could escape from the building the fire had cut off the ordinary exits and from the windows at the Irvington street end came frantic cries for help. Ladders were quickly raised as soon as the firemen arrived and two of the women artists, Miss Hannah Danforth and Miss Mary Macomber, were safely removed and carried into neighboring houses.

Intent to Murder Charged

Salem, Mass., Nov. 12.-Frank L. Page, 25 years old, is charged with assault and intent to murder William Riley, 45 years old. Riley is Page's uncle, and some family matters are said to be the cause of the assault. Page came to the house, it is alleged, where Riley was sick in bed, and, entering Riley's room, fired a shot from a revolver directly at the latter's head. The shot grazed the sick man's cheek, and Page ran away from the house. Later he returned, and was arrested by a police officer after a struggle.

Federal Stock and Grain Company Embarrassed causing a loss of fully $200,000. Many Lost About Five Times That Amount In Last Six Months --Had Branch Offices Throughout New England

> Boston, Nov. 12.-The pronounced rise in the stock market was responsible for the suspension of the Federal Stock and Grain company of this city, one of the most extensive concerns of the kind in the country. The company had four offices in roston and 50 or more in other cities. Treasurer Murray states that the concern has lost $1,000,000 in the last six months. The claims against it. he says, do not exceed $150,000. Most of the branch offices are located in New England, but there are agencies in Montreal, Denver and other cities outside of these states.

All branch offices were closed shortly after the announcement of the suspension in this city. In several Connecticut cities attachments have been filed against funds standing in the banks to the credit of the concern.

Secretary-Treasurer Murray says: There have been no misrepresentations by the officers of this concern. #### GOOD AFTERNOON.

Gov. Bates continues to have a kind word for labor. At the launching of the battleship New Jersey in Quincy on Wednesday he said "this great ship is a credit to those who placed the bolts and rivets binding her together;" and in his Thanksgiving proclamation he says-"On that day may all the people join in praise for the opportunity to labor in a commonwealth where the work of each contributes to the welfare of all." There is nothing vindictive in our Governor, and his proclamation is a

The Ledger does not seem to be booming its candidate for the Republican nomination for Mayor. What can be the matter with Mr. McAnarney? Do you think neighbor, that as a Demo he has no right to enter the Republican caucuses ?-Advertiser.

The Ledger is booming no candidate. Nothing is the matter with Mr. Mc-Anarney. Mr. McAnarney has been a Republican for several years, and has a right to enter the Republican caucus which the Advertiser has not.

Having answered all the questions, it is hardly necessary to add that the Daily Ledger is not a political organ. The city has had too much politics. Were we inclined to boom any candidate the field seems to be pretty well covered, for the Advertiser is booming both Fallon and Wilson for the Democratic nomination for Mayor; Bates for Socialist nomination, and Thompson for the Republican nomination-anybody and everybody but McAnarney.

The Leager has nothing against Mr. Thompson, but believes Mr. McAnarney the stronger gentleman to nominate, and that he will be the choice of the Republicans next Tuesday. The unwarranted attacks which have been made on him have only strengthened him and increased his popularity. Mr. McAnarney has placed his stamp of disapproval in emphatic terms on the present administration of the city, and it is a noteworthy fact that the City Hall officials are doing very little to secure the nomination for either Mr. McAnarney or Mr. Thompson.

NOMINATION PAPERS.

Some Signed for Both Mr. Thompson and Mr. McAnarney for Mayor.

The signatures to the papers placing John W. McAnarney and James Thompson in nomination for the Republican caucuses for Mayor will be of more or less interest. The Ledger understands the friends of neither candidate made any effort to obtain a long list, but merely to meet the law and have a few to spare.

Further, a voter signing a nomination paper for a candidate is not bound to support that gentleman. If it were otherwise how could J. Q. A. Field, Edwin W. Newcomb and others vote for both Mr. McAnarney and Mr.

Two or three lists were filed for each candidate, which accounts for the epetition of some names. The signatures to the papers were:

Words Without Rhyme.

Bulb has no rhyme. Culm, cusp, recumb, gulf, month, doth, amongst, art other rhymeless words having the sound of u as in but. Few patrician words in the language have this vowel sound, so commonplace and without dignity; hence poets turn to it only for blood, flood and a few similar turbulent monosyllables. They use it often, however, in forcing the accent from the antepenultimate syllable to the final, where its unpleasant sound is concealed by the softened stress. Thus has many rhymes, such as felicitous, mysterious, inglorious, etc.-London Chronicle.

Thanksgiving On Board a Man-of-war

HANKSGIVING and Fourth of July are in the same class on United States battleships, Both are holidays for the jackies. Both are celebrated with games and sports. Turkey and cranberry sauce are the only things which differentiate the last Thursday in November from the United States seaman's Fourth of July, when all the men in the navy put on their Sunday clothes, have a big feast and are not compelled to work.

With the dawn of Thanksgiving day on a United States battleship, regardless of whether she is in Manchurian waters or skirting the coast of the isthmus of Panama, all colors are thrown to the wind. Great American flags are raised to each of the mastheads and lines of brilliant signal flags extend from the prow and stern to the mastparty, and it will be necessary to await heads. The decks are washed down and made shipshape, flags are draped all over the mess rooms and in every part of the officers' quarters, and at noon the privilege to all parts of the was elected, and that the remaining ship is extended to the crew, and the Plum duff, turkey and mince pie are called upon to supply a Thanksgiving atmosphere to the greatest feast of the year in the navy.

Even on Thanksgiving day the men on board battleships are not supposed to have any liquor, but skillful smuggling frequently adds the necessary brandy to the sailors' spread. Twenty years ago one of the United States battleships lay in Naples bay on Thanksgiving day. Strict orders had been issued against liquor, and all the men had been warned not to attempt to get any grog aboard. The messes sent rep-ficers, and Jimmy Legs, master at arms, was called upon to stop the noise. His efforts were in vain, and officers began a search in the hope of finding the cause of the unusual mirth. A raid was made on the pantries, and an examination of several of the well browned turkeys showed that a thin university is inconsistent with the at layer of oyster dressing concealed skins filled with enough liquor to give sever-

Smoking is permitted everywhere, and for a few hours the ordinary seaman is allowed to lounge in the best seats the ship affords and to smoke cigars which would do credit to the officers' quarters. If the vessel is near the shore the afternoon is usually devoted to baseball games, foot races and football. If the battleship happens to be where shore privileges cannot be granted the ship's deck becomes the recreation ground. obstacle races, rope climbing contests, boxing and other athletic events are engaged in.

Boat races are also a popular diversion on Thanksgiving day. Prizes are all counties in the state give Folk, for offered by the officers for the successful crews and individual performers, and the men overcome the stupor of a heavy dinner in their effort to show superior oarsmanship.

FURNACE COLD.

People who live in furnace-heated houses may have noticed the prevalence of supposed colds, coughs and throat ailments immediately after the furnace has been started in the fall. As a matter of fact, experts declare that these epidemics are largely caused by the dust and germs which gather in the registers and hot-air pipes during the summer and are blown into the air of the nouse when the furnace is started. In addition to the ordinary dust, which is certain to settle in such places during the summer mon also danger that it may become impregnated with poisonous vapors from the cellar, which may be released by the current of hot air rising from the cellar. In view of the large number of houses which are heated by furnaces, the question of properly cleaning the pipes has an important influence on the health.-Healthy Home.

Saleswomen.

Unquestionably more women of capability and intelligence look upon salesmanship as a life work than was satisfaction of even the casual observer. One does not get the impression that the salesgirl is simply working at trying to make their occupations worth something, who intend to sell goods as a business and not as a transient occu-

In the Foreign Legations.

Our American feast is observed in the foreign legations at Washington by customs peculiar to the mother country, and the dishes known in the "father's house" are most in evidence. even though the American fowl has its place, Sir Henry Mortimer Durand presides at the feast in the household of the British embassy and gathers about him a coterie of friends. Here the custom of the country represented and the one adopted bear a resemblance, and the day is observed without a marked change in their mode of living.

Novel and Beautiful Presents

Pinto Tagliato Embroidery For Christmas Gifts

INTO tagliato embroidery is a new and beautiful idea in the needlework world which lends itself perfectly to the fashioning of lovely Christmas presents.

Any number of useful and dainty gifts may be made with this embroidery, including table covers, doilies, cushion covers and dress trimmings. A few remarks as to the work itself may be useful. First, the fancy stitches are taken on the material itself, the ground being cut away from the back of the stitches, leaving a filling of openwork

Newbro's Herpicide

HUNTERS CAME TOO LATE!

Their Faithful Dog has pointed out the True Remedy to Prevent Baldness, but the Hunters came too late-Chronic Baldness is incurable.

HERPICIDE A "HAIR-SAVER."

Newbro's Herpicide saves the hair by destroying the germ or microbe that is now known to be the cause of dandruff, falling hair and baldness. In chronic baldness the hair follicles are completely atrophied, causing the scalp to shrink and shine; little can be done in such cases except to save the remaining "fringe," and this is well worth saving, for it offers some protection against the cold. The "Hair Grower" is a fallacy. It requires but a slight knowledge of Anatomy to know that the hair gets its life and strength from the hair-papilla at the bottom of the hair follicle, and the papilla in turn gets its nourishment direct from the blood; therefore nature is the only true hair grower. There are enemies of hair growth that cause hair loss and baldness. Invisible microbic growths enter the sebacceous glands, situated at the top of the hair follicles (Dr. Sabourand of Paris says the microbe usually enters the scalp in youth) where one colony after another is established, until finally, after months and sometimes years, there is dandruff, itching scalp and falling hair. The Sebum also solidifies, causing dry. lustreless and brittle hair. Destroy this microbic growth with Newbro's Herpicide and protect the hair against re-infection, and it will grow as nature

Newbro's Herpicide is a Twentieth Century Remedy. Its mission is to teach new rules for scalp cleanliness, new rules for hair preservation and to supply a germ-destroying solution that will enable careful persons to have beautiful and luxuriant hair. Almost marvelous results follow the use of Herpicide, and if it does not do more than we claim for it, your dealer will refund your purchase price. As a hair dressing, it is truly exquisite, on account of its dainty and refreshing odor, which is characteristic. It contains no oil, grease or sedimentary substance, neither does it stain nor dye the hair. Stops itching of the scalp almost instantly.

BEST EVER USED.

"It gives me great pleasure to state that I have used Newbro's Herpicide for sometime, and pronounce it the most pleasant and best preparation for the purpose intended I have ever used."

(Signed) WM. HARRISON DECKER, Pastor.

STOPPED FALLING HAIR.

"I can cheerfully recommend New-bro's Herpicide as being an article of real merit. We used it on my daughter's head after a severe case of typhoid fever and it stopped the hair from falling and started a growth of new hair." (Signed) MRS. D. W. HUMPHREY. Carbondale, Pa.

Vote for the Republican Candidate for Mayor.

THOMPSON.

His action will be governed in part as follows if nominated and elected.

A strict compliance with the provisions of the City Charter, and a maintenance of the personal responsibility of the several administrative officers and boards according to the provisions of that document.

A reduction of the City debt and all City expenses.

The strictest economy in expending every appropriation made by the! City Council so that for every dollar spent the City shall receive an equivalent

Merit and capability to govern in the appointment to office.

Courteous and fair treatment to all our citizens.

A divorcement of pernicious election methods from the business conduct of public affairs, and a change for the public good where city cfficials have neglected their duties and become active politicians.

The enforcement of all laws without discrimination or favor.

He enters the field with no promises or pledges to hamper his individual I thought the same thing, but I am action to promote the public welfare.

JAMES THOMPSON.

STOP AND THINK. TO

Before Casting Your Vote at the Caucuses.

An Economical Mayor Is Necessary.

A Good Word for James Thompson by Business Man.

Editors of the Daily Ledger:

Another year has passed and the eitizens of Quincy are again called on to make selection of their Mayor and Councilmen to do the business of the city for the coming year. For the office of Mayor we have from the two principal parties four candidates offering themselves, so we have a good chance to make selection and get the best man for the place.

This is a very important decision in the present state of the finances of the city for we have borrowed up to the full debt limit, our taxes (considering valuation) are very high and we have constant demands on our City Council for improvements and luxuries from all parts of the city.

I would ask if it does not behoove every well wisher of our city to stop and think before he casts his vote at the cancus on Tuesday, and see which of these four candidates will make the best Mayor? We need one who will be very economical himself and see that we get full value of our taxes, one who will not be afraid to veto a bill for the nnecessaries when we can only afford he necessaries.

I firmly believe that we have such : nan in James Thompson, a successful business man that knows how to run the business of the city on business principles. He has lived all his life in Quincy and knows the need of every part. He has served in the Legislature for three years, has served in our City Council and has been president of it for two years, and has also served as Principal Assessor for three years.

Who will say that he has not the qualifications for a first class Mayor He has been a temperance man all his life, and will see that the No License

Mr. Thompson spends his days in Quincy, while many of our past Mayors have had their business in Boston and run the city business in the evening, and cannot so well look after the heads of departments. In all the positions that Mr. Thompson has held, is there one to rise up and say that he has been dishonest in the least particular? Not

But Mr. Editor, some may say he i not affable and appears to be stiff and unyielding. Well, I have known Mr. Thompson for some twenty-five years. When I was less acquainted with him satisfied that while he has a natural reserve and is not a gusher and does not wear a political smile, that should not enter into the consideration of the quality of a candidate for this high business position. Very many of the highest administrators of the country have been cold and reserved, almost austere, yet they made powerful business

Mr. Editor, I am not writing from a friend's standpoint, for in some instances we have had decided differences of write as a citizen who would have reading. the business of the city done on the same basis as private business, by one who is trained in that line. What table. merchant or manufacturer would think of placing a doctor or a lawyer to run are very few. Then why as good citizens will we not employ the same

While I do not believe in a strict adherence to party lines, yet I feel confident that Mr. Thompson has been a consistent Republican all his life and has of the 33 cities in the state and 314 of not been grafted on to the party. Then their undivided support? He is worthy of it :- a good straight forward honest,

It is hoped that our voters will not be for the man who will give his time to the office and give each citizen a Yours very truly,

John L. Miller. Quincy, Nov. 14, 1904.

REPUBLICAN

The names of John W. McAnarney, Esq., and James Thompson will be presented to you for your votes at the Mayoralty Caucus Tuesday.

These men have for years been reputable citizens of your city, and each has an equal claim on the Republican party.

No question can therefore be raised as to either their character or party standing.

Which man ought the Republican party to nominate? Nominate the stronger of the two candidates.

Nominate the man it can elect.

Make no mistake this year.

Which of these two men will be the stronger candidate on election day?

If you nominate a weak candidate and he is defeated, do you realize that it will mean "Mayor Peter T. Fallon?"

James Thompson if nominated can NOT be elected. His nomination will mean the election of Mr. Fallon.

Nominate your stronger candidate --- the man who if nominated will be elected,

JOHN W. McANARNEY, Esq.

Do not hesitate to do your city this service.

REPUBLICAN.

FURNACE COLD

People who live in furnace-heated houses may have noticed the prevalence of supposed colds, coughs and throat ailments immediately after the furnace has been started in the fall. As a matter of fact, experts declare that these epidemics are largely caused by the dust and germs which gather in the registers and hot-air pipes during the summer and are blown into the air of the house when the furnace is started. In addition to the ordinary dust, which is certain to settle in such places during the summer months, there is also danger that it may become impregnated with poisonous vapors from the cellar, which may be released by the current of hot air rising from the cellar. In view of the large number of houses which are heated by furnaces, the question of properly cleaning the pipes has an important influence on the health.-Healthy Home.

CAUTION.

The above article is from a reliab'e source, and we do not believe the danger from this use is over estimated.

It has been stated before by different authorities that a large per cent, of the throat and lung trouble in the winter months, in the north ra states, was caused by the hot, dry, dusty air from the hot-air furnace and registers. To avoid this danger use the more modern method of HOT WATER, or STEAM HEAT, properly installed by

Schooner Arcularius Lands on Rocks Off Naushon

Driven Into Gloucester Harbor, Where Her Crew Was Rescued Only After Heroic Work on the Part of Lifesavers

Woods Hole, Mass., Nov. 14.-The two-masted schooner E. Arcularius, Captain Nelson, of Rockland, Me., went ashore in the severe northeast gale shortly before dark last night about a quarter of a mile west of Tarpaulin Cove, on the island of Naushon. At sunset seas were breaking over the craft masthead high. No trace of the crew has been found and fears are entertained for their safety. The vessel is in a particularly exposed condition and the chances of her being saved are Keeper Carson of the Tarpaulin Cove lighthouse and a man named Robinson, a keeper of the Forbes estate, saw the schooner when she struck. It was just before dark and a raging gale was blowing. The schooner was coming through Vineyard sound from the eastward and was proceeding under her foresail, the gale being too fierce to permit more canvas being car-

The schooner tacked and tried to work into the cove for an anchorage, but the wind bore her off and as she swung away she struck with a crash upon a ledge of rocks not more than 100 yards from the lighthouse.

Carson and Robinson were unable to render any assistance to the men on board the schooner. The crew numbered four men and all were plainly seen when the vessel struck, but darkness set in almost immediately.

The nearest life saving station on the north side of Vineyard sound is at tion of the emperor to struggle to the Cuttyhunk, 20 miles distant from Tarpaulln Cove. On the south side of the sound there is a life saving station at Gay Head, but that, too, was too far besides, the seas were so high that distance of 30 miles. nothing but a surfboat could possibly escape almost instant destruction.

It is feared that all on board have perished. The craft struck in a particularly exposed position, and no vessel could be expected to stand the terrible pounding on the jagged rocks to which she was subjected.

gale to the rescue of the crew on board the schooner Nautilus, Captain King and crew of the Dolliver's Light lifesaving station last night experienced the roughest and most exhaustive work in the history of the station.

The Nautilus, Captain Coleman, of Rockland, Me., bound from Perth Amboy to Rockland with a cargo of coal, demonstration had every characteristic 1836-1865-1904 driven dangerously near to the new Dog Bar breakwater. Captain Coleman quickly let go both anchors and undoubtedly saved immediate ship-

$20 Boston Box for $5. The vessel was a mile and a half away and a dozen times it looked as though the lifesavers would not only fail to reach the schooner, but themselves might be engulfed. The high wind caught their oars and at times rendered them practically useless and the boat, losing its headway, was time and again hurled shoreward. With courageous persistency, however, the lifesavers stuck to their task, and after much buffeting reached the Nautilus, but the crew was so thoroughly exhausted that Captain King was compelled to tie up on the lee side of the schooner in order that his men might recover their strength. Having recovered from their exertions, the lifesavers proceeded to the work of taking off Captain Coleman and his crew of three men. As the men were making ready to once more brave the elements, the towboat Nellie hove in sight. A line was thrown to the Mfeboat and the crew, and the men they risked their lives to save were towed ashore. The crew of the Nautilus are being cared for at the life-saving station. Captain King of the lifesavers said that the trip to the schooner was the most hazardous he had ever attempted At high tide the stern of the Nautilus was grazing the rocks, and it is feared when the tide goes down the vessel will grind to pieces.

The Glenwood Oak Stove with triangular revolving grate is acknowledged the most perfect working coal stove ever made. This grate keeps the fire absolutely free from clinkers so that the fire need not be let out the entire winter.

The Mica Covered Openings in the lower feed door show the fire and give a most cheerful and pleasing effect.

The Swing Top may be turned to one side, allowing the large flat top beneath to be used for heating water, or other purposes when desired.

The Wood Grate may be used alone, or resting on the coal grate, which is a great convenience for people using both fuels. It burns with economy either coal or wood,

FURNACE COLD.

People who live in furnace-heated houses may have noticed the prevalence of supposed colds, coughs and throat ailments immediately after the furnace has been started in the fall. As a matter of fact, experts declare that these epidemics are largely caused by the dust and germs which gather in the registers and hot-air pipes during the summer and are blown into the air of the house when the furnace is started. In addition to the ordinary dust, which is certain to settle in such places during the summer months, there is also danger that it may become impregnated with poisonous vapors from the cellar, which may be released by the current of hot air rising from the cellar. In view of the large number of houses which are heated by furnaces, the question of properly cleaning the pipes has an important influence on the health.-Healthy Home.

CAUTION.

The above article is from a reliable source, and we do not believe the danger from this

It has been stated before by different authorities that a large per cent. of the throat and lung trouble in the winter months, in the northern states, was caused by the hot, dry, dusty air from the hot-air furnace and registers. To avoid this danger use the more modern method of HOT WATER, or STEAM HEAT, properly installed by when he arrived, but a greater demon-McAnarney when he entered the hall, and there was applause for Fred L.

Frank W. Jones was chairman and nade his maiden speech criticising City Hall and methods of department officials. He said a little house cleaning would make it smell sweeter. He also eulogized Mr. McAnarney and believed him a desirable candidate.

Lawyer John D. McKay was the first speaker. He said Mr. Thompson was Quincy Day Nursery Association an estimable neighbor, but the strongest candidate should be nominated. If we admit Messrs. Thompson and Mc-Anarney are equal in ability, the latter is more popular.

The speaker criticised the conduct of the Police department, citing instances of arrests where summonses would have been sufficient. He thought a lawyer could correct these abuses Fred L. Jones was next introduced. He had received two documents by mail that day. That from Mr. Mc Anarney outlined his platform, while the one from Mr. Thompson urged a vote for a Republican. A platform is what we want. Mr. Thompson was a good Republican when there was no City Hall office in sight. He was not a good Republican three or four year

I want to see a change at City Hall Much of the work of officials at present is to perpetuate themselves in office. They have built up a big political machine, and Mr. Thompson is one of them. If Mr. McAnarney does not clean them out we will be against him next year. We have an extravagant city government. Over valuation of property by the Assessors department, of which Mr. Thompson is the head, has long deluded the people. Property is valued one-third higher than it should be.

In conclusion he spoke eulogistic of Candidate McAnarney. Mr. McAnarney was then introduced and received with applause. He said he did not propose that City Hall should pick out a candidate this year. He was Snider's Catsup, conducting his own campaign and appealed to the people. He held a whip the un-American principle now prevailing. He wanted no slave driver. There Choice Corn, has existed a condition of affairs which should come to an end. The speaker then criticised the cam-

the Ledger, taking it up in parts. He Queen Olives, pint bottles, said Mr. Thompson and the other members of the board of Assessors, Messrs. Johnson and Glover, were electioneer ing. Under Mr. Thompson's platform they would have to go if the gentleman was elected, as he favored "a divorcement of pernicious election methods. The speaker claimed Mr. Thompson had neglected his duty as assessor, when he subordinated himself to the desires of the Mayor. No one believes there has been an increase of $493,000 in valuation the past year. Mr. McAnarney resented the fling of John L. Miller against doctors and lawyers as a personal thrust, and showed the absurdity. It is not a question of men but of methods at City Hall. The City Charter was framed by theorists, and they placed too much upon the Commissioner of Public Works. Charles Knowlton has not performed the duties of the office as I desire or would allow

The speaker favored a continuous board of Commissioners to be elected by the people one each year. I pledge myself, if elected, to amend the city charter on these lines before March 1. loses his power and everything goes.

He would put the Police and Fire departments under civil service, the chief Asked by Mr. Faxon how he stood about license, he said he had always voted no license and will so long as I live. While the local option law is in force it should be enforced.

The speaker said school matters could be adjusted and improved at very little expense.

Replying to a question from the audience, he said the city should be able to pay its laborers as much as private citizens did, and he did not believe in cutting them 25 cents to encourage extravagance elsewhere.

Peter Kerr spoke a good word for Candidate McAnarney. William Kelley thought the candidate was friendly to labor and deserving of will be registered with the party whose icket they vote. The Republican electors for President received 2,453 votes at the recent election in Quincy, and Gov. Bates 1724. It is anticipated that the number to vote the Republican ticket at the joint caucuses tonight will be in excess of both these totals. As the polls did not open until 12 M. today it was too early when the Daily Ledger went to press at 3 P. M. to make an estimate, particularly as the bulk of the vote will be thrown after sundown. It is said that 1500 votes will be required to nominate the Republican candidate this year. Will it be John W. McAnarney or James Thompson? If 3000 Republican tickets are cast, there will be less than 1000 Democratic ickets, and very few Socialist tickets.

The indications are that the contest between George H. Wilson and Peter T. Fallon for the Democratic nomination for Mayor will be as close as the Republilican contest, unless Ward Four gives a phenomenal vote for Mr. Fallon.

The Socialists have no contest. The Republican strength at the recent lection was about 2200, the Democratic strength about 1500, and the Socialist

The Republicans bave rival candidates for Councilmen at large, and also for ward Councilmen in most wards.

Ward One

Fifty-one votes were cast in the Quincy ward during the first hour and only three of these were Democratic. It is said that all the employes of the city to a man are voting for J. W.

McAnarney. The election officers are Messrs. Packard, Holt, Davenport, Coyle, Murohy and Flannigan.

A half dozen or more carriages are mployed in getting out the voters.

Ward Two. Some set the Republican plurality for McAnarney in the Quincy Point ward as high as 100 but others think he will be doing well if he gets 50.

It is expected also that Candidate Wilson will make his best run in this About 20 voted in the first hour, rep-

for McAnarney. A big vote is expected in the early evening.

Ward Three. That religion will play an important is without question. This ward is the stronghold of the followers of the old A. P. A. movement and today they are out solid for Thompson. On the other hand there are many who have been set down as Democrats that are today calling for Republican ballots. This was evident to any one who would take the trouble to watch the voting for a few Whether these are for Thompson or McAnarney no one knows, although it s claimed that they are voting for Mc-Anarney. This ward is the home of Thompson, and he should be able to carry it. McAnarney supporters are working hard, however, and claim that if they fail in carrying the ward they will cut Thompson's majority to a small margin. The voting today started in well, and t 1.30 the box registered 50 votes. At that time there was an almost constant stream of voters going and coming and the carriages on duty were kept busy. That this ward will poll a phenom-

The West Quincy ward is a hard one to forecast today, as there are so many elements entering into the contest. Ordinarily as between Republican and Democratic the ward would unquestionably be Democratic. Today, however, there are those who believe that McAnarney will get more votes than Fallon. As between Thompson and Mc-

Ward Five

The indications in the Wollaston ward are that as heavy a vote as usual will not be cast today. There is seemingly but little interest in this ward there is a contest. It is generally conceded that this ward will give Thompson a majority. Those familiar with the local conditions, however, say that ment during the past few days, and that

Pension Commissioner to Leave

Office First of New Year Washington, Nov. 15.-Commissioner of Pensions Ware has tendered his resignation to the president and it has been accepted, to take effect Jan. 1.

Commissioner Ware refused to discuss his action in any way, except to state that the newspapers of the country had been "resigning" him for the past two years. It is believed here that Ware's action was not due to any suggestion that the severance of his relations with the pension office would be agreeable to the president. It has been no secret that Ware, soon after assuming his duties, found the duties of his office distasteful to him, and that this distaste steadily increased. There is no intimation as to who his successor

Some of the well known workers of the ward, who have been seated on the fence have now jumped down, and taken up the McAnarney side of the question, and promise that the ward will give him a majority of 50. Friends of Mr. Thompson, however, also claim

School Attendance.

The average daily attendance at the Quincy public schools for the four weeks ending Nov. 3 was 5,343, of whom 622 were at the High school. The High school had the best percentage of attendance, the John Hancock and Willard being close behind. The Gridley Bryant and John Hancock had only three tardinesses the former out of about 12,000 chances, and the latter out of about 14,000.

Republicans, generally, regret that he verdict at their caucuses was not more decisive. Mr. Thompson is to be congratulated upon having won in the contest, but it would have augured for his success on election day if he could tences were commuted at the session have had a majority of 200 to 300 instead of less than 100. Under the circumstances it was, however, a great victory for Mr. Thompson. He carried four out of the six wards, in each case by good substantial majorities, while in Wards Two and Six John W. Mc-Anarney was the favorite.

As it developed, the "City Hall machine" voted almost solidly for Mr. McAnarney, whether the compliment was reciprocated or not. This very fact hurt the candidate in a large degree, and together with other things not very creditable to certain voters encompassed his defeat.

Mr. Thompson won without the support of the City Hall machine, and after their active work against him it is possible they will be against him on election day. On the other hand, however, Candidate Thompson will receive a large increase of votes on election day from those who honestly supposed that their vote for Mr. McAnarney was a vote against the machine.

At the last City election Mayor Bryant received 2155 votes to 1860 for George H. Wilson. Candidate Thompson should be able to add the necessary 1000 votes easier than Candidate Fallon can add 2000, and he probably will.

As was expected Representative Falon won the nomination by his vote in Ward Four, where he received over half his strength, but the total vote at the Democratic caucuses was less than 600 and the party does not appear to be very formidable. Because Mr. Fallon won in a Representative contest in a a handkerchief soaked with chloroform | cer of the department at the St. Louis double district with several candidates is no indication he will win in a dead. PORT ARTHUR'S DISTRESS

Troops Depressed by Continuous Work and Lack of Supplies --Russians Short of Material For Making Heavy Ammunition

Fusan, Nov. 16.-It is reported from the headquarters of the third Japanese army before Port Arthur that a wound received by General Stoessel has necessitated his confinement in a hospital, that he refused to relinquish the command of the garrison, and that he has issued orders to the troops to die at their posts rather than surrender.

It is said that the spirit of the Russian troops has been dampened by continuous work, the lack of supplies and the hopelessness of their ability to make any successful defense of the fortress. It is said further that many of the Russian soldiers are ready to surrender, but that they are kept at their posts by officers, who threaten them with revolvers, and that several soldiers who were suspected of a desire to desert have been shot as a warning to others. The Japanese now believe that the garrison has almost reached the limit of human endurance.

Spies and Russians who have surrendered report that rations in the are made partly of killed wood and do notice posted by the operators declaring heavy ammunition.

The capture of the eastern fortified ridge will mean the surrender of the fortress in a couple of weeks unless the garrison there retires to the isolated forts. This seems improbable, however, and cold weather and the lack of resistance unlikely.

Dogger Bank Inquiry Begins Hull, Eng., Nov. 16.—Great Britain has begun the official inquiry into the Dogger Bank tragedy of Oct. 21-22, when Russian warships fired upon British fishing steamers, sinking one and killing two members of the crew. Vice Admiral Bridge and Butler Aspinwall, an admiralty court lawyer, who were appointed to conduct the inquiry, and whose report will form the basis of the British case before the internanational commission at Paris, sat at a large table surrounded by maps showing the Dogger Bank and the North sea. In front was an array of counsel and government officials. No new evidence was developed.

New Haven Railroad Can Editors of the Daily Ledger:

A political campaign as intense and active as any in the history of our city, between two gentlemen of irreproachable character, for the Republican nomination for the office of Mayor has resulted in the selection of Mr. James Thompson and it behooves every citizen who desires a business-like and economically progressive administration to give him his vote and his earnest support in the coming election.

He is a man of experience and ability; one who inspires respect and confidence in all with whom he comes n contact, and one who will creditably represent the city on all occasions.

Let all the animosities of the past campaign, if any have been engendered, be forgotten, and let our citizens who desire good government unite in giving Mr. Thompson such a large vote as will be a credit both to him and the citizen

Russians Blow Up a Destroyer at Cheefoo

MESSAGE FROM STOESSEL

Commander at Port Arthur Says Inner Line of Defense Is Intact--Damage to Warships by Japanese Shells Not Great

London, Nov. 17 .- The Russians have blown up the torpedo boat destroyer Rastoropny, whwich arrived at Chefoo from Port Arthur with dispatches from General Stoessel to the authorities in St. Petersburg. The captain of the Rastoropny first notified the Chinese authorities that he would disarm. It is believed that this decision was ar rived at after communicating with St Petersburg. There is reason to believe that Japanese cruisers have been watching the port.

General Stoessel's action in sacrificaccomplished by Mr. Thompson if Port Arthur is preferable to further sacrifice of his men, and is laying that course before the government. It may be that he has found his resistance so a time beyond which aid from the Baltic fleet will be unavailing.

All these ideas are mere speculation, with nothing more to sustain them than the reports from the Japanese bewise, the astonishing way in which the Russian forts have withstood the battering of the Japanese siege guns promises resistance for weeks to come. The blowing up of the Rastoropny is a marked sign of Russian contempt for China's ability or willingness to protect with force the neutrality of her ports. Another sign is Russia's violation of that neutrality by sending military dispatches over Chinese telegraph dispatch from President Amador which

This action is the result of the investigation of the Alaska ing. judiciary made recently by Assistant Attorney General Day.

Attorney General Moody had a conference with the president yesterday judiciary as they were developed by other nights 11.50 P. M , to Quincy Point only. an investigation which he made last summer was discussed. At the conclusion of the conference Moody made

The investigation made by Judge Day involved practically all the members of the Alaska judiciary in charges the hour until 10.50 P. M. and counter-charges. He worked on the case for many weeks, making a special trip to Alaska to obtain information on the subject. He completed his report recently, and placed it in the hands of the president. The president's action was based on the finding of Day. the officials was not made public in detail, it being deemed advisable not by Day. It is known, however, that 10.55 P. M. the charges involved selfish, if not corrupt, practices before the Alaskan courts in mining claim cases.

The charges against Brown, who was appointed from Wyoming, were, in efcourt, and that he had appointed his secretary as receiver of some properties which were in litigation.

Charges have been made from time to time against nearly all the federal being exempt, but it is said that the action of the president finally closes the matter of these charges, officials of the administration being satisfied that Governor Brady, Judge Wickersham of the Yukon district and other officials ersham was reappointed yesterday.

The rooms of the Granite City club in the Savings Bank building were entered by parties unknown at an early hour this morning and cigars and money to the value of about $75 taken. Entrance to the club rooms is thought to have been by false keys. The cigars are kept in a case of drawers the keys of which are held by individual members. In each drawer there was a box of cigars or its equivalent in money, while in a case in the billiard room was a part of another box and $11 in money. All of these were taken.

The drawers were forced open with a chisel or some similiar instrument. The job was done about 2 A. M. At that hour the night operators in the telephone office, whose rooms are on the same floor, heard an unusual racket in the club rooms and remarked upon it.

It was an hour later, or about 3.30, before it became known that the rooms had been entered. At that hour Officer Burrell went to the telephone office and discovered that the club room door was way, however, before the train struck open. After hearing the telephone operator's story he entered the rooms, and lighting the gas discovered what had taken place.

President Jones and several other club members were notified by telephone of what had taken place and they visited the rooms. Beyond the money and cigars it was found nothing else had been taken. There has been more or less petty robbery from the club rooms for a year past, but no clue has ever been found to the parties. The thieving began with carrying off St. Michaels church on Wednesday net-ted $1000. George Loud is repairing the State Then articles were accidently left in the rooms by members would disappea during the night, but they never came

It is probable that decisive steps will be taken to prevent future occurrence of this kind.

Santa Claus Faxon. Henry H. Faxon visited the fair of the Atlantic Memorial church at Music hall on Thursday evening and added materially to the success of the fair by distributing three hundred tickets good for five, ten and twenty-five cents, which he later redeemed in cash. It was great fun to see the children surround Mr. Faxon and scramble for the coveted tickets. The old man says it was great fun, however. -The number of sick and wounded soldiers under treatment in Japan toward the end of September was 45,000.

The heroic deed of a Japanese soldier in the present war is thus described by Oscar King Davis in his article on "Japanese Devotion and Courage" have One Dozen of our Best in the November Century:

Sanko Takano, sergeant major, special duty, belongs to the Second company, Second cavalry regiment, Second division. On a dark night in early April, soon after his regiment had reached the Yalu river, he and Lance Corporal Shinobu Watanabe were sent out with a third man to ascertain the width and depth of the main stream of the river where it flows between two large islands opposite Wiju. They crossed the first channel in a boat, which the sergeant major and the corporal left on the first island in charge Regrets Her Contract and Has of the third man. Then the two worked across the island to the main stream. There was nothing for it but to swim, so in the two men plunged. The floating ice hammered them, and the cold water numbed them, so that they could not make headway against the current and were carried downstream. But fortune had not deserted them, and they drifted against the boat in which their comrade was trying to scull back to shore. He, too, had been swept downstream by the swift water and the ice, which hindered his sculling. He hauled them in, and soon they were landed on the Wiju side, to be comancestor worship of the Japanese).

Fruit as Table Decoration.

Mrs. Thomas F. Walsh of Washington has been following a fashion in table decoration that was first started in New York Press. It is the happy idea of using fruit as an adornment instead of flowers at this season of the year, when fruit is so varied and so plentiful. At a recent dinner Mrs. Walsh had the table decorated with fruits blue and pale green grapes were arwith the graceful lines made by the air of beauty quite unusual in these gives a stunning effect when the coats days of monotonous floral decorations

THE CORSET.

Placed on Trial and Found Guilty

Physical Culture magazine has put the corset on trial and found it guilty of even more heinous offenses than most of its ardent haters have ever dreamed. Here is the true bill found against this molder of the feminine form by the magazine:

It lessens and sometimes ruins the digestive powers.

It restricts development of the lungs to almost half their normal size. It destroys absolutely the normal

It ultimately injures and makes shapeless, flaccid and nerveless the flesh of the waist line.

It destroys the beauty lines of the body, of the limbs, arms and bust by restricting nourishment, by interfering with normal circulation and thus lessening vital power, and by the continuous and unnatural support of the bus in an abnormal position.

It is absolutely in most cases the direct cause of weaknesses peculiar to women, from which every corset wearer suffers at some time in her life. It greatly weakens, sometimes de-

"Why, how did you know about that?" Esten asked, somewhat amazed. "I never told you how I'd trained him."

"I have eyes on purpose to see things," Rose said, smiling. Warlock had responded properly to the signal, but had not given up his own mind. In half a minute he was again stretching his step. Rose drew lightly on the bit. The horse shook his head, as though defying her. She gathered the reins short, held him hard and gave right. him two stinging cuts in the flank. As he swerved his master cried:

"Miss Rose, don't do that! He-he isn't used to it,"

"He will not make me do it again," Rose said, smiling. "That is one beauty of blood in a horse. It makes him remember."

When they were out in the big road which wound past the gate Rose gave Warlock his head a bit. Esten smiled to see it. The black held steadily to the fox trot. Evidently he had not forgotten his lesson. Rose smiled too.

"I wish there was nobody but ourproper people or setting their horses so wild as to make them run away."

"Why didn't we think to go out by the other road?" Esten said discontentedly. "I want you to find out just how well Warlock goes. Then maybe you'll take me to get him. I know you'll never do it unless there is something besides myself."

It was a laughing speech, but with an undertang of reality. Rose blushed faintly-that is to say, the damask roses broadened the least bit. She flicked Warlock daintily and sent him cantering after a rockaway some hundred yards ahead. The Elversons were their own, regarded lovemaking in had reacned the limit of endurance.

Now the black head was in firmly, patted his neck, then softly front, now the roan. It was a curious duel of speed, one wherein each rider fondly hoped for the other's triumph, yet spared no effort to come in ahead.

"Well done, Warlock!" Rose cried as together they flashed across the mill road, making in at the end of the straight mile. "You can't beat the Barb; the Barb can't beat you. I must know what he mightn't do if I took find out if Captain cannot take both of you into camp."

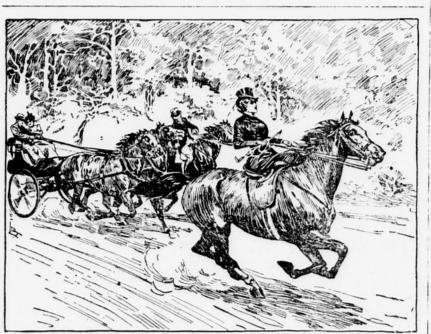

"Look! Yonder is the preacher," Esten said, glimpsing down the crossroad. Rose looked and laughed out-

"Wish her opinion was catching. You for three years, ever since she was sixteen. So had Billy Hope. She had a dozen other casual followers, but Hope seriously afraid. The pair were reasonably good friends and wonderfully equal-so equal, in fact, that in the mind of their world there was not a pin's choice between them.

They were well born, well bred, of fair fortune and good repute.

The two lovers had been patient, partly because they were so wholesomely virile they were awed by Rose's untouched freshness, partly that each in it, three excellent young women, was too diplomatic to force an issue with big noses all and no complexions that might go against him and thus to speak of, who, having no beaus of leave the other a clear field. "Thank goodness, I've asked every body, and everybody said yes. Now trot breaking to a plunging run. Jim Peggotty can't scold and say I was careless," Rose said as she settled herself comfortably on Captain's back. She was surprised to see Billy Hope riding Warlock. "Tom Esten wouldn't give up the Barb," he said in answer to the inquiry of her eyes. "I think it's lucky we're so near the last to start. Captain's in a humor to need a heap of room."

"I don't blame him. You've been keeping behind everything all day," Rose said, patting the lean brown neck. Captain laid his ears flat against it and champed his bit. Rose looked across at Billy. "We had better go home by the hill road," she said. "This fine gentleman is ready to run over anything he may see ahead."

"You're right. I wish you understood men as well as you do horses," Billy said, with a huge sigh. "Why, I think they are very much alike," Rose protested. "You can do most anything you please with them if you give them apples and sugar and petting-and make them know they must mind." Billy laughed easily.

"I'll mind you without making-if only you'll give me the chance," he said. Rose shook her head.

"Then you are utterly spiritless," she said, "and I like spirit beyond everything.' "Rose, I'm not a coward except in one thing. I have been so afraid you'd-say no I haven't given you the chance to say yes. But you shall have it now," Billy said, his face whitening as he spoke. "Don't answer offhand, darling, but will you have me and all I possess?" Rose looked straight ahead, swallowing hard. They had turned into the hill road, which ran through woodland, high lying woodland upon top of the bluffs bordering the mill stream. New fallen leaves blew down it in long drifts or waltzed airily in the grasp of elfin whirlwinds. There was almost no undergrowth. The branches locked overhead into a fretted roof, flecked here and there with russet or red or yellow. The cushioning leaves made progress almost soundless. Rose smiled to think she was riding through a world of faery. She had no wish to speak, hardly even to think. It was enough to be alive there, with the sunshine, the woodland scents and the subtle delight of knowing herself so

Unconsciously she slacked rein. At almost the same instant twenty bird guns volleyed a little to the right. It was so warm the quail had left the stubble for woodland feeding grounds. The hunters of course had followed them and had fired, not knowing riders were at hand.

Half a breath, Captain stood almost upright; then a long sidewise plunge took him to earth and sent him leaping as though hurled from a catapult down the road. Rose held her seat marvelously, hardly shaking in the saddle, though he reared a second time. He had taken the bit in his teeth. She was powerless to check him. All she hoped for was to guide him and save herself from death against a tree trunk. She did not look back. Warlock, she knew, was ten yards behind. Billy Hope would do his best, but he could never bring the her for it, loitered unaccountably in black horse beside the brown. She the orchard. Of course the double runcould look only to herself. There was that in the note of Billy Hope's voice which enforced instant obedience. His wife began to scream, clutching wildly at the reins. In her frenzy she let the baby drop from her lap to the floor. Jim caught it between his feet and held it safe. Both hands had the reins in wraps. Even at that it was all he could do to keep the horses in the road. They tore along at a whirlwind gait, never slacking for hill or hollow. Jim turned an ashen face to his wife and said: "Flora, we deserve to die for being fools enough to drive these horses-but do remember baby. Let me save it if I can."

Madly as the grays went something behind was faster. He heard it com ing. In a little while he knew whatever pursued must pass him. With all his strength he tugged at the reins and sent the grays a little aside. The road, narrow enough everywhere, was narrowest of all just ahead. It ran for thirty yards along a bench in the bluff side, only wide enough for a single vehicle. At one hand the ground rose in a wooded ramp; at the other there was a sharp declivity, with the mill stream at the bottom

"If they come up with us there Jim shut his eyes with a groan that was half prayer, half curse. Again he lashed his horses. If he could keep in front until the bench was passed there might be a chance of safety.

The bench was bare of leaves. Halfway across he heard thudding hoofs behind. As the grays came to the farther side a brown horse shot by up on one side, a black upon the other The brown ran on with long, stretching strides. The black checked at the head of the grays enough to let his rider seize and hold the bits. As ther were drawn to a standstill Billy Hope shouted:

"Get out and take the baby, Mrs. Malone. I have got to go ahead," Mrs. Malone obeyed. #### IMPORTATION OF ELANDS.

Species of Antelope to Be Introduced Into the Southvest.

The introduction of elands into the United States is likely to be attempted before long, the department of agriculture having given its approval to the idea, says the Saturday Evening Post. All that is needed is money, which congress will be asked to give. The animals, which are the largest of all antelopes, would be very valuable in the desert regions of the southwest as a source of meat supply. They require almost no water, are accustomed to HERE are many people who are forage for themselves and are quite

> The eland is nearly six feet high at the shoulder when full grown and weighs 1,600 pounds. It is not particularly swift, unlike most of its congeners, and a man can sometimes overtake it by running. Its flesh is considered a delicacy. Commonly it browses in herds in the waterless deserts of South Africa, to which it is native, its ability to get along for months together without water being a mystery. To some extent doubtless it depends upon moisture derived from succulent plants, such as the wild watermelon.

> There are two varieties of eland, one being reddish in color and the other, known as the Livingston eland, striped. It is one of about 200 species of antelopes found in South Africa, where animals of this genus seem to have undergone the most extraordinary differentiation. Some of them are the swiftest runners of all animals, and certain kinds are so wild and wary that hunters cannot possibly get within gunshot of them unless by the help of what is known as an artificial ostrich, a Hottentot contrivance consisting of the skin of an ostrich arranged to disguise a man, who holds the head of the supposed bird aloft by means of a stick thrust through the neck.

> Elands are becoming scarce in South Africa. Though they seem to be the most desirable species for importation into the United States, there are others which might be valuable-notably the springbok, which is a graceful creature less than three feet in height, of a beautiful fawn color, a prolific breeder and suited to the conditions, climatic and otherwise, of the arid regions of Arizona, New Mexico and southern California.

THE BALTIC FLEET.

Russia's Experiences In Making the Squadron Fit For Sea.

The panicky performance of the Russian Baltic fleet in the North sea is an ample confirmation of the truth of some of the stories current concerning the extraordinary shifts resorted to in the endeavor to get it manned and fit for sea, says the New York Post. The British newspaper mail recently brought a budget of fresh letters on this subject. One writer declares, among other things, that the recent accidents to the new battleship Orel were due wholly to the extraordinary incompetence of a scratch crew. For months past considerations of general efficiency, and particularly of efficiency of the deck officer staffs and crews on board vessels "for the Pacific," have been subordinated to the necessity of getting the ships out to sea with the minimum of delay. Russia had no sufficient supply of qualified commanders, officers, engineers, artificers or well trained sailors. Even when the Japanese struck their was a matter of common knowledge in Russian naval circles at home, albeen hastily collected at Kronstadt, Libau, Sevastopol and Nikolaieff and dispatched to Port Arthur by rail across Siberia. When the time came for commissioning the vessels of the second Pacific fleet it was found that the bulk of the material available was of indifferent quality. The supply of experienced eugineers was especially deficient. As one way out of the difficulty engineers and boiler room men were taken over from the volunteer fleet, the Russian Steam Navigation and private companies. The volunteer fleet authorities got substitutes where they could with queer results. Not long ago two new torpedo boat destroyers were added to the Black sea fleet. They were warranted to make twenty-six knots; they went sixteen. This result, as the commanding admiral explained, was due to the fact that the engine room staffs knew nothing about water tube rays to the testing of submarine cables has recently been made in Europe and has been found useful in determining defects and imperfections which might cause a breakdown of the cable and involve considerable expense for repairs, says Harper's Weekly. The apparatus consists of a Roentgen ray tube, above which is fluorescent screen, while the cable to be tested is passed through guides just below, so that a shadow is cast on the screen. The cable is allowed to run through the testing apparatus, and the observer looks for any indication of a fault in the shadow. Foreign substances, air bubbles or bad joints in the rubber or guttapercha insulation are readily detected and may be remedied at the works.

Japan's Work In China.

GOOD AFTERNOON.

The story by Martha McCulloch-Williams in today's Ledger is one of exceptional merits in the author's best vein. It is a love tale in which a runaway horse plays an important part. Mrs. Williams knows women and she knows horses. More, she knows how to put them in a graphic pen picture. In her short stories she enlists the interest of the reader in the first few sentences. When you meet at the outset a girl who has two lovers and who is liable to run a race coming back from church, there is no doubt about following the story to the end.

FASHION'S FANCIES.

New Trimmings and Fabrics - The Continued Vogue of Silk.

The rage for silk and for exquisite woolen materials, velvets and satins will continue through the winter.

The old fashioned peau de soie and moire antique silks will be revived. and old rose of the most vivid shade is to be a favorite color for evening

Many of the imported gowns show the short shoulder and tight sleeves, with full graceful skirts. The Louis XVI. modes are daily gaining favor, and whether la mode will take kindly to this nipped in appearance of the short shoulder remains to be seen.

When the short shouldered effects are carried out by an artist who is able to make the modifications suited to the individual woman without apparent alterations they are without doubt extremely effective.

Pipings of velvet are very much used as trimming in conjunction with velvet buttons.

CASTLE SQUARE THEATRE.

The success attending the policy of the new management of the Castle Square theatre in securing the most recent dramatic successes of the day to present for the first time at popular prices has been so pronounced that arrangements have been made which make it possible for the patrons of this playhouse to see 45 In the Palace of the King" next week. This play is the work of the late Lorimer Stoddard, who, of course founded it upon F. Marion Crawford's romance of old Madrid of the same name. In making the play, Mr. Stoddard felt it accessary to depart from Mr. Crawford's story to the extent of making Cardinal Luis de Torres instead of Don John of Austria the one to be apparently killed.

Miss McKinley is a pleasing soprano vocalist and her repertoire is largely made up of songs written by herself. The surrounding show includes Thos. J. Ryan and Mary Richfield, in their latest comedy success, "Mike Haggerty's Daughter;" George W. Day, one of the cleverest blackface comedians and parody singers in the varieties; Eddie Gerard and Jessie Gardner, in their singing, dancing and comedy specialty, "Dooley and and Mrs. Allison, in their great character comedy and singing sketch, "Minnie from Minnesota" and Carlo's dogs, an act that will

BOSTON MUSIC HALL.

One of the most meritorious, evenly balanced and variegated vaudeville programs ever seen in Boston will be presented at Boston Music Fall the week beginning Nov. 21. The bill does not have a top nor a bottom, is around-robin of all star vaudeville and to mention one artist before another is simply an unavoidable circumstance. Those who enjoy legitimate comedy will find in the sketch offered by Mary Sanders (formerly with the Cassle Square theatre Company) a tidbit of the most appetizing and satisfying kind. It is a brand new affair written expressly for Miss Sanders by Brandon Hurst, the leading man with Miss Jessie Millward who is at Music hall this week. The title "On a String" and the comedy is said to possess laughter-making qualities galore. The Welch-Montrose troup of comedy acrobats will do some surprising stunts and cut up funny capers while the Ritchie Duo have a sensational comedy bicycle act. There will be new pictures on the kinetograph which, possessing comedy, will make a fitting climax to the merry round of merriment.

Time for Christian People of Quincy to Awake.

Rev. W. E. Gardner, rector of Christ church, discussed the drink problem in a somewhat different light than many 1. t., McIntosh of the temperence advocates, in his I.e., Sullivan sermon Sunday morning. A synopsis of the address will prove of interest at this time when a vote is soon to b taken on the license question.

The way of treating the whole subject of temperance has changed in the last few years. Temperance was regarded as an isolated and specialized work. A few remedies were considered sufficient to deal with it. The individual pledge of abstinence, the prohibition of sales, pictorial instruction in the public schools and an annual agitation of the subject, covered the methods of temperance activity.

Any man who takes that stand today is behind the time. Any community that limits its activity along only these four lines shuts itself out from a larger usefulness. We have discovered that tions and influence and movements which must be considered. Domestic economy, psychological, racial and inheritance problems, and conditions are found to be most closely related to the drink problem. A few questions will more clearly present the scope of the whole subject. 1. Is it drink which destroys the family, or is it the disordered family life (created by industrial conditions) 2. Is the drink habit a morbic habit; or is it in many cases a normal

Permit me to call your attention t

the work of this committee in one department-the social aspects of the saloon. The following is based upon observations made in Chicago. It would appear that the popular opinion of the saloon as a distinctly destructive force in the community and as solely a device for producing intemperance, stands in need of some revision. The investigator reports a study of two hundred saloons in a ward where the men belonged to the class of unskilled labor. He saw but little intemperance; nowhere did drinking seem to be the principal attraction. Thirty-five saloons contained chairs and card tables, ninetytwo offered free lunch, in seventy daily papers · were on file, three offered the use of a piano, in two were well equipped gymnasiums and one offered the free use of a hand ball court. The siloon keeper trusts his patrons, by generosity they increase their seeming worth. They lend money, and where one known to them is in great These are facts which many of us who roundly score the saloon would do well to bear in mind. It may indeed be said that the saloon keeper plays the role of the Good Samaritan with a selfish end in view, but until all other citizens are ready to render unselfish aid to fellow citizens in need, and do it as directly as does the saloon keeper, wholesale condemnation will have but little weight, especially with the work-

A word on our local issur, We have favorable conditions in Quincy in that we have no saloons. We must not only say that we want no saloons but we must see to it that we have no saloons. The great work done by Mr. Faxon must be maintained, As there are new conditions to face, new agencies must be brought forward to meet them. Last night east of Edison Park fifteen nundred men slept in boarding houses. Standing on Chubbuck street a policeman told me that there was not a house n sight but that contained boarders or roomers. What are these men to do with themselves during the cold nights of this winter? What wonder if they go to Boston. What wonder if the streets of Quincy Point are disagreeable and are considered the hardest streets to police. Have we any right to complain of the crowds that go to Boston, and the unsafe conditions of our streets, while we do nothing to remedy it ? It is time for the Christian people of Quincy to

We must realize that we have the most favorable conditions to begin a modern work in the upliftment of men. We have no tearing down or clearing away of saloons to do, we have only to build. We must turn from the old methods of maintaining no-license to the new methods; and our aim must be and healthy craving for recreation not simply a no-license vote, but a promotion of such lines of work as will

FAREWELL PARTY

John Melville Going to Rough It on Ranch in Kansas.

A farewell reception was tendered John Melville, Saturday evening, at his home on East Howard street. Mr. Melville leaves for Oberlin, Kansas, this week, where he will begin life on a ranch. He has a large circle of friends in this city and a good many of them gathered at his home Saturday evening to give him a hearty "send-off." The evening was delightfully passed in parlor games, music and dancing. During the evening, Mr. Charles Bosworth presented Mr. Melville with a gold watch chain, as a token of friendship from his young friends. A dainty collation was served, after which dancing began and continued until nearly midnight. Among those present were: Charles Bosworth, Miss Minnie Wight, Miss Mollie Harris, Miss Elizabeth Brown, Adney Wooster, Miss Jennie Harris, Frank Melville, Miss Victoria Carter, Daniel Scouler, Jr., Miss Beatrice Adams, Mr. Russell, Marcus S. #### Harvest Concert.

There was a very large attendance at the First church chapel Sunday afterboon at the harvest concert by the Sunday school. The concert was given under the direction of Charles H. Johnson, and consisted of recitations by the children, general exercises by the school, and instrumental music by some of the children. The school voted to denate $5 from its penny collections to the City Hospital. The chapel was prettily decorated with fruit and vegetables of all kinds, and looked very inviting. These will be distributed among the poor people of the city.

ANCIENT STENOGRAPHY.

Shorthand Was In Use as Early a the Third Century. Shorthand was known to the ancients, though it is impossible to trace the system to its source.

Ennius, the Roman poet, is said to have improved upon an already existing system. He was a friend of Scipio and was born 239 B. C. Seneca also made it a hobby. Origen, the Greek father and mystic who was born about 186 and was voluminous writer, says, in the course of his commentary on St. John, "The absence of my shorthand writers pre tions." We are told, too, that he allowed shorthand writers to take down

In the tenth century Greek and Ro man stenography gradually died out and the art did not revive until the beginning of the seventeenth century During this long interval several sys tems of quick writing were evolved, such as that of Dr. Timothy Bright in 1588, who had a separate sign for ev ery word, and some of these almos Odd Fellowship at Neponset tomorrow rivaled shorthand in rapidity.

The Kicker's Trademark.

In the English hunting field it is the custom to mark kicking horses by tying a piece of red ribbon around their tails. Experienced hunters are on the careful lookout for all such animals and should it happen that the steeds are running close to one another the equine with the ribbon bedecked tai is given a wide berth, as it is more than probable that it will lash our with its hind legs to the serious dis advantage of its neighbors. In the ex citement of the chase horses almos lose their heads, and an animal that naturally is not in any way vicious of inclined to be bad tempered will do the most unexpected things in the way of kicking, rearing and biting.-Londor Telegraph.

Monuments of Ears.

Throughout Korea a number of mon uments are still standing which date from the war of 1592, when Japan in vaded Korea with 30,000 men. These "monuments of ears," as they are called, mark the burial places of 10,000 ears which were cut from the heads of the Koreans as trophies of victory. There are many of these monuments in Japan also, for some of these grewsome relics were taken home by the conquering army.

The first of a series of talks under boat shaped toque a flat plaque form- the auspices of the Quincy Historical Society, was held Saturday evening in the First church chapel. There was a large number present and the talk which was by Brooks Adams lasted about an hour. Mr. Adams made a few preliminary remarks in relation to the Historical Society and the talks that were to be given. He then said that he would read a few extracts from letters which passed between President John Adams and his wife Abigail Adams. Some of the extracts read were from published letters, but others were from letters that had not previously been made public. The talk was a very interesting one and was listened to with marked attention.

California Geologist Tells How Ana capa Island Is Disappearing.

That the island of Anacapa, one of the Santa Barbara channel group, is slowly disappearing in the ocean is the rather startling statement of Fred Johnson, who with a party of scientists from Berkeley, Cal., recently visited the place, says the Chicago Inter Ocean. And more curious still, Johndue to the presence of 400 sheep on the barren rocky island. These sheep, according to Johnson, are actually wearing away the rocks. On the south side of the island they run along the top of precipitous cliffs, forming deep pathways about three feet from the edge of the cliff. Rain soaks into these ruts, and from time to time parts of the bluff fall into the sea.

On the north side of the island are canyons and hollows where the soil has collected. Between the rock and the upper crust the soil washes out and caves sometimes as deep as twenty feet are formed. The sheep run over the top of these, wear ruts in the earth, which in turn is washed into the

Another remarkable statement of the scientists who visited the island is to the effect that there is no drinking water on the island for the sheep. All the refreshment and nourishment they get comes from the leaves of the prickly pear plant, which the sheep very dexterously manipulate so as not to be hurt by the thorns. The only man on the island is the sheep herder, who draws his supply of drinking and cooking water from a cistern in which he collects rain water.

CUTS OF BEEF.

ome Information For the Housewife About Steaks and Roasts.

A carcass of beef is cut in nineteen house prices. Good beef has a julcy or sappy appearance, with a fine, smooth grain, which is easily noticed. The fat, both outside and through the muscles, presents a clear, straw colored appearance. The flesh should be cherry red. When meat rises quickly after being pressed, it may be considered prime. When the dent made by pressing rises slowly or not at all, depend upon it

How One May Be Fashioned Out of Ordinary Wooden Boxes.

of Thomas & Miller. The granite cutters employed at the yards of Thomas F. Miller suspended work this morning. The cause of the men going out is said to be a dispute over the wages paid one of the day men. It is reported that when the man went to work he was paid $2.80 per day. He received this pay for two weeks. Finding that the man was not able to earn that amount, his wage was cut to the minimum, or $2.64 per day. At the same time the amount that he had already received in excess of the $2.64 was deducted. When this was reported to the union the men were called out.

Question of Socialism Before Federation of Labor

RESOLUTION IS MODIFIED

Samuel Gompers and John Mitchell Called Traitors For Dining In "Unfair House" With President Eliot of Harvard

San Francisco, Nov. 22 .- Monday's session of the American Federation of Labor was most exciting. During the heated debate which followed the unexpected interjection of the question of socialism before the delegates, Samuel Gompers and John Mitchell were charged with being traitors to the work the third degree this evening in cause of labor. These charges and the bitter socialistic debate which followed were caused by the introduction of the C. A. will hold their regular monthly following resolution by Delegate Ber

WHERE UNCLES RULE.

Peculiar Custom That Prevails I

Northern Australia. Uncles rule among the native tribes bordering Torres strait, where the relationship between maternal uncle and nephew is regarded as being closer than that between father and son There a man is bound to stop fighting when ordered to do so by his mother's brother, and the uncle is entitled to bid his sister's husband cease any hostilities in which he may be engaged. Moreover, the quelled combatant is required to make a present to the uncle or brother-in-law, as the case may be, who stops him.

When a man marries in these parts his father provides the wherewithal to purchase the bride, but it is the maternal uncle who makes the actual payment and who acquires the credit attached thereto. A man in those parts may not utter the names of his wife's relations, and when he speaks to his father or mother-in-law he must lower his voice and speak humbly, the underlying idea be ing probably a pretense that he has carried his spouse away forcibly from her home and must sue for peace.

FEATHERED MIMICS. Ostriches Roar Like Lions and Jays

Are Great Imitators.

"The roar of the ostrich resembles the roar of the lion because the ostrich stole from the lion this sound, even as one playwright steals from another a

An ornithologist made that odd assertion in a taxidermist's shop. He went on to elaborate it as follows:

"Birds from the ostrich down are imitative. The ostrich where he lives alone is silent, but in a country where lions abound he roars. Why? Because for centuries, admiring the majesty and grandeur of the lion's roar, he gradually learned to roar himself. Believe me, it is fine to see an ostrich throw back his little head and emit a roar like thunder.

"Buntings imitate pipits, and green-nches imitate yellowhammers. They finches imitate yellowhammers. They seek their food in the winter together. and they gradually steal each other's

"The jay is an insatiable imitator. Some jays will include in their repertory not only the whoo-oo of the kite, the scream of the buzzard and the hoot of the owl, but also the bleat of the lamb and the neigh of a horse.

"Even the nightingale imitates. In a nightingale's perfect song I have often heard the tip-sip-sisisis of the wood warbler and the bub-ub-ubble of the nuthatch."-Washington Post.

PROPER BREATHING.

Use the Nostrils, Not the Mouth, and Take Deep Inhalations.

Did you ever observe whether you breathe through the mouth or nostrils? It makes a wonderful difference. When we talk we are forced to breathe through the mouth, says the Philadel this Inquirer. When not speaking the ps should be well closed, and the breathing should be entirely by the of slow, measured, deep breathing that covers the entire lung surface is of more value and importance than you will ever believe until you have tried it, and when you have established the habit of breathing in this manner you will say some remarkable things in its favor. It will reach all points of your physical system. All the benefits that occur from a healthy condition of the blood will in a greater or less degree be yours, for the manner and completeness with which the inhaled air comes in contact with the blood in the lungs are of the utmost importance to every vital process. The lungs are a kind of furnace, in which the oxygen of the air is consumed and combined with other elements, a process necessary to life, the perfection of which depends upon the purity of the air and the manner of inhaling it.

CANDLE AUCTIONS.

The Way Public Sales Were Former ly Conducted In England.

Candle auction was a well known method of procedure in England in the early days of the East India company. Public notices of such sales were first put up at the royal exchange. When the day came a candle exactly an inch long was placed on the auctioneer's desk. Directly the sale began the candle was lighted. So long as it continued to burn bidding went on merrily, but the instant the flame died away the goods were knocked down to the last bidder.

In this manner immense consignments of silks, indigo, spices and so forth were disposed of, thousands of pounds changing hands during the burning of the inch of candle.

Before the auction began a list was read over of the names of persons not permitted "to bid at the candle." This contained the names of those who had failed to pay their debts or had in any way wronged the company, who "blacklisted" them in consequence .-Pearson's Weekly.

Wakwak Were Birds of Paradise. Readers of "The Thousand and One Nights" will remember the islands of Wakwak and the marvelous adventures of Hassan of Balsora and the princess with the dress of feathers. Dr. Alfred Russel Wallace suggests that the islands were real and that they can be identified with the Aru islands, the home of the great bird of paradise.

The name "Wakwak," he thinks. may be an imitation of the call of the birds, and the story of Hassan's visit to the islands of Wakwak may be based on the actual adventures of some traveler who discovered the haunts of the birds of paradise .-Youth's Companion.

Hold Annual Reunion in This City.

SIXTY-SIX Descendants Irma Batchelder and Percy Cheney; duets by Mrs. Lena Stewart and Miss Present.

Four or More States Represented at the Gathering.

The first reunion of the Hume amily was held Tuesday evening at Hume, eight were present. With them came their children and grandchildren, den. sixty-six of the family being present. The living children of Mr. and Mrs. Eli Hume are:

Mrs. Annie Smith of Rockland, Me. Mrs. Helen Gilmore of Somerville. Mrs. Mary Alley of Wollaston. Mrs. Margaret Ross of Mapleton, Me.

Mrs. Sarah C. Swestt of M. dford. Mrs. Jennie F. Dutton of Norfolk

David E. Hume of Castle Hill, Me. James P. Hume of Malden. Mrs. Theresa Stewart of Medford.

The Quincy branches of the original in the Ledger's Saturday issue. His tree are the families of Charles A. Slogan is a clean sweep at City Hall, Dutton, Nathaniel E. Alley and Benjamin Packard. The others came from New York, Baltimore, Maine, and different parts of Massachusetts.

Every inward train Tuesday brought Bears the Signature The Kind You Have Always Bought Signature some twig of the family, and in was a jolly party that gathered about the heavily laden tables at 8 o'clock for supper. Thanksgiving goodies were there in abundance and a jolly time

Everybody present at the dinner had to do their part toward the entertainment. It was a hard and fast rule that he or she must make a speech, sing a song, or tell a story. One of the most interesting features was a brief history of the family from the time Eli and Ellen came from England and settled in Maine up to the present time.

Mr. Charles A. Dutton presided at the dinner, and after calling for three who gave a brief historial sketch of the S. S. Pierce of Quincy. family a synopsis of which follows:

Eli Harvey Hume was born Feb. 9, Hume his wife was born June 16, 1813, and died April 12, 1886. They were married March 8, 1832. Eleven children were the result of this union. Many years of their married life was passed in Rockland, Me., where their children vere reared.

In 1860 Mr. Hume and his family noved to Castle Hill, Me., being one f the pioneer settlers of that section. While this is indeed a joyful occasion, it is mingled with sadness, as we think of the dear ones who have passed away, especially, the one so recently taken from our midst, Clara Ida Packard, the youngest of the family. Her death came after a long period of sickness. The oldest of the family, John Hume, was lost at sea. While we feel sad for the dear ones gone beyond we have cause for thankfulness that so many are alive and permitted to be present this evening. Nine of the eleven children are alive, eight of whom are present. Mrs. Annie Smith of Rockland, Me., the oldest of the family, is unable on account of illness to be present. Of fifty grandchildren, forty-four are alive, nearly all being present. Of the six who have passed away only two, Charles Franklin Dutton and Frank Hume lived to grow up. The former is represented here by his daughter. Of the 42 great-grandchildren, 35 are now living.

Eli Hume was a quiet, unassuming, upright, christian man, loved and respected by all who knew bim. His wife possessed those excellent traits of character which we recognize in her descendants.

The Humes are a proud race and justly so. They are intelligent, thrifty and law-abiding citizens. No descendant of Eli Hume was ever guilty of any crime.

It is to be hoped that this reunion will be beneficial to all and that we may be better men and women for having been here tonight.

Others to speak were: Margaret L. Ross, Joseph C. G. Sweatt, George Gilmore, David C. Hume, James P. Hume, N. E. Alley, Charles Sylvester, Frank M. Turner, John A. L. Ross. Alden H. Packard, Charles A. Stewart, Ralph E. Dutton, Howard D. Hunt,

CHAIN LADIES' NIGHT

Miss Margaret Donovan assisted by Rural Lodge of Masons Entertain.

Installation Officers.

New Apartments Open to Ladies for First Time.

The ladies found out Tuesday evening ome of the attractions which make men regular in lodge attendance and ometimes late in returing home. They found hidden away in the new Hancock building in City Square surprisingly ments occupied by the Rural lodge of Masons, which are richly furnished. They found the membership to comprise over 200 representative gentlemen of the city who know how to entertain. They found indications of progress and prosperity, and they know from experience that Masons stand high in the ommunity.

The occasion was a public installation of the officers of the lodge, and the first ladies' night in the new apartments. Nearly 300 Masons and ladies were in attendance. The rooms were made doubly attractive by tropical plants from the greenhouses of William Patter son. There were also pretty bouquets at the stations of the elective officers.

The installing officer was a past master of Rural lodge, Rt. Wor. by Rt. Wor. Henry L. Kincaide as grand marshal, and Rev. Edward A. Chase of Wollaston as grand chaplain. The work was admirably performed.

Mrs. L. W. Wood and Others Recover from Maine Central.

Cases which have attracted considerable attention in Maine, and have interested Quincy friends of one of the plaintiffs, were tried in the Sapreme Judicial court at Augusta, Me., the last two weeks.

The plaintiffs were Mrs. Ella Beedy, her husband Arthur Beedy, and Mrs. L. W. Wood, all of Waterville, Me. Mrs. Wood is the mother of Mrs. Paul R. Blackmur of this city, and City Solicitor Blackmur and H. E. Heath, Esq., of Augusta, were counsel for all the plaintiffs.

The defendant was the Maine Central Railroad which was represented by two of the ablest lawyers of the State, Orville Baker, Esq., and Charles W. Johnson, Esq.

Suits aggregating $40,000 were brought by the plaintiffs to recover for permanent injuries received by the two ladies at a railroad crossing in Waterville about 8 o'clock on the morning of July 24, 1903, they being passengers on a stage coach which was struck by a freight train backing onto commodious and well appointed apart- a crossing. The case of Mr. Beedy was to recover for the loss of his wife's

Augusta papers report the whole town to have turned out to the trial of the cases, and that the legal fraternity of Maine were greatly interested. They give the lawyers for the plaintiff credit for conducting the cases very ably.

The jury found verdicts for the plaintiffs aggregating $22,708 as follows:

Mrs. Ella Beedy, $9,866. Mr. Arthur Beedy, $4,280. Mrs. L. W. Wood, $7,558.

Exhibit Almost Caused Collapse of Nan Patterson

SKELETON IN COURT

New York, Nov. 23.-Several unusual features were presented in the supreme court in the trial of Nan Patterson for the alleged murder of Caesar Young. Frederick D. Michaels, the cabman, described the cab in which Young met his death. He said that he heard the sound of a pistol shot and that Miss Patterson opened the trap a moment later and told him to drive to a drug store, but that he did not look into the cab. He then told what occurred up to the time when he reached the hospital, where Young's body was taken.

During the day a skeleton and two pieces of skin from Young's second finger were produced in court by the prosecution. The skeleton was shown in order that the course of the bullet that killed Young might be traced. The state, it is understood, expects to use the pieces of skin in refuting the suicide theory. The introduction of these exhibits caused a sensation in the courtroom and for a time Miss Patterson seemed on the verge of collapse.

Several policemen were put on the witness stand to testify regarding incidents that followed the arrest of Miss Patterson, and Police Captain Sweeney identified the revolver which, he said, conducted by the pastor. was found in Young's pocket after the Coroner's Physician O'Hanlon, who performed the autopsy, was called and said the cause of death was hemorrhage of the left lung resulting from a bullet wound. By means of the skeleton he then showed the direction taken by the bullet.

MOULDERS' STRIKE

Lawless Actions Culminate In Charges of Murder

MANY ARRESTS ARE MADE

Confessions of Men Who Dynamited a Foundry Promise Sensa ional Developments--Union Officials May Become Involved

Cincinnati, Nov. 23 .- Charged with various degrees of lawlessness in connection with the strike of union moulders of Cincinnati, Covington, and Newport, Ky., a half dozen men are under arrest and others are under surveillance. Those in custody are William Patton, Eugene Trainer and Thomas Bracken, charged with murder; Fred Rauhauser, Jr., charged with malicious destruction of property; Fred Rauhauser, Sr., and John Hook, charged with aiding and abetting the destruction of property. A warrant was issued for Joseph F. Valentine, president of the Iron Moulders' Union of North America, but as he is out of the city, the service could not be had on him. Valentine telegraphed from Cleveland that he would be here

The headquarters of the Iron Moulders' union are in this city and it is claimed that President Valentine has been directing the strike that has been in progress in Cincinnati, Covington and Newport for several months. TOOK HIS OWN LIFE

Manager of Coal Concern Failed to Meet Creditors

Lowell, Mass., Nov. 23.-Walter T. Moore, manager of the Lowell Coal company, committed suicide yesterday afternoon at his summer home at Amherst, N. H. The Lowell Coal company is in financial difficulties and a meeting of the creditors had been called. Mr. Moore left the city at noon and shot himself with a rifle on arrival at his farm. A large sum of money is involved in the failure of the company and this suicide adds to the entanglement.

The friends and business associates of Moore were shocked to learn of his suicide. Moore had spent practically his entire life in this city and was well connected both commercially and socially. He was 47 years old. He lived with his wife in a fine house on Belmont avenue.

Moore was formerly senior partner in the Moore & Bennett Coal company. During the great coal strike two years ago he conceived and put into execution a plan to organize a combination of leading coal dealers of this city. As a result the Lowell Coal company was incorporated with a capital stock of $125,000.

The company had prepared to do a large business, but they were not given the patronage expected. Affairs finally reached such a state that on Wednesday last M. L. Cobb, a whole sale coal dealer of Boston, filed an attachment for $85,000 against the concern. At 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon the very time that Moore took his own life, a meeting of the creditors and the directors of the company was being

Four persons were seriously injured and 15 others were slightly injured. The pas senger engine was demolished and three coaches and 10 freight cars were burned. The wreck was caused by the smoke from the forest fires making it impossible to see 20 feet ahead.

> Detective Charged With Perjury New York, Nov. 23 .- Joseph Jacobs, a detective of District Attorney Jerome's staff, who secured the evidence against Richard A. Canfield, is under arrest by order of Jerome on a charge of perjury, based on a confession he made to counsel for Canfield. Jerome says Jacobs asked them that as the price of his confession he be supplied with sufficient funds by Canfield to take him out of the jurisdiction of the courts. Forest Reservations Extended

Washington, Nov. 23.-In his annual report for this year, Commissioner Richards of the general land office recommends the exercise of more deliberate consideration of propositions looking to the establishment of forest reserves than has been exercised in the past. During the last fiscal year nine reserves were created, increasing the aggregate area of forest reserva tions to 2,765,494 acres.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS.

Never put fish in your refrigerator unless you wish to spoil the butter.

Yacht mops are great conveniences for dusting the bare floors so universally used now.

An undercover of rubber sheeting or B marbleized oilcloth under the linen C cover preserves the top of a wash-

Brush alcohol in which a little collodion has been dissolved over the silverware to keep it from tarnishing. Th thin invisible coating the solution leaves can readily be removed by dip ping the article in hot water.

An excellent way to brighten smoky looking, slender necked glasses or caraffes is to fill them with water and a number of bits of paper. Shake hard, and when the contents are removed the glass will be found to glister like new.

Rice Blancmange. Boil half a pint of rice in as little water as possible, till all the grains lose their form and become a sof mass. Next put it into a sieve, drain with a large half pint of rich milk and a quarter of a pound of powdered sugar. Boil it again till the whole is reduced to a pulp. Then remove from the fire and stir in while hot a wineglass of rose water. Dip molds into cold water, then fill them with the rice and set them on ice. When quite firm and cold turn out the blancmange and serve it in dishes with a sauce tureen of sweetened cream flavored with nutmeg, or it may be eaten with boiled custard or wine sauce. If preferred, the blancmange can be molded in breakfast cups. Always dip the molds in lukewarm water for a moment before turning out.

A Shabby Bedroom.

A good way to completely transform a bedroom when the furniture has be come old and shabby is to give every thing a coat of enamel paint. White is always pretty for a sleeping room, and a dainty room can be made by having all the furniture, woodwork picture frames and boxes painted with white enamel. Get a pretty little rose bud spotted muslin and of it make bedspread, dresser covers, curtains and cushion covers. You will find that with very little trouble and small expense you will have a bower so dainty that any one might envy you.

For each shelf and drawer of the bed linen closet make pads to fit, consisting of two thicknesses of cotton batting covered with cheesecloth and sewed together around the edges. Before doing this spread thickly between the layers of batting lavender flowers with which a little orris powder has been scattered. A delightfully delicate odor of lavender and violets will permeate the contents of the closet, and the bed. Cures a Cold in One Day, Grip in 2 Days rooms will always be faintly suggestive of those flowers.-Ladies' Home

"What do you think of the proposition that is being made for an extra session of congress to revise the tariff? "As is well known, I have for some time favored tariff revision, and that it is my earnest hope that the president will see his way clear to call an extra session especially for that purpose. On the platform, I, in common with other Republican speakers, have claimed that the tariff would be revised by its interest owned in common with the other heirs friends, and there never was a more opportune time than at present for doing that work. Its friends are in control of all branches of the government, and the president has just been elected by the most startling and overwhelming popular vote ever given a president in this country. With increased power given the interstate commerce commission, and the tariff revised, the people would certainly be getting a 'square

VAN SANT'S SUGGESTIONS

Washington, Nov. 23.—Governor Van Sant of Minnesota speaks freely concerning his conference with the president on the question of increasing the powers of the interstate commerce commission, and concerning his position on tariff revision at a special session of congress to be called next spring: "The object of my interview with the president was to urge upon him the necessity of having increased powers granted by congress to the interstate commerce commission, and to request him to recommend such action in his forthcoming message. We believe the best way to correct many of the evils of transportation is to give to this commission the power, when a rate, after investigation, has been found to be unreasonable, to fix one, have it go into ways have practically eliminated the lic sentiment will demand the passage should not be allowed to become a mo-

"That is easily arranged. There will be no more open mergers, no great holding companies to be the receptacle of the stock of the various systems. The supreme court settled that question for all time. But it does not prevent the heads of the various systems from agreeing upon plans and policies for their special benefit, and the damage of the shipper and the other patrons of able. The merger was a mere incident in the great transportation battle that will be waged for years to come."

JAPAN OUR FRIEND

Affection For Us of Long and Unchecked Growth

OUR FLAG IN PHILIPPINES sion is just what you need.

Japan Would Not Resent Its Floating There, and Would Regard Our Withdrawal as Little Short of a Calamity

London, Nov. 26 .- Writing from Tokio on the subject of the alleged intrigue of Russian agents to sow dis cord between Japan and America and create a feeling in America that Japan's success in the present war would jeopardize America's position in the Philippines, a correspondent of The Times declares that nothing could be more chimerical. It is doubtful, the fectly emulsified, which is the correspondent says, whether even Great Britain holds a higher place in Japan's esteem and affection than America. The writer says:

"This sentiment is of long and unchecked growth. It began under the diplomatic regime of Townsend Har ris, and the numerous instances of America's friendship since that time have so resulted that no western nation is more cherished by Japan than America.

"These considerations should suffice to show how extravagant is the suggestion that Japan would ever resent the floating of the Stars and Stripes over the Philippines. On the contrary, America's withdrawal from the Philippines would be regarded by the Japanese as little short of a calamity, since her presence there constitutes a guarantee for the continuance of her whole some interest in far eastern affairs."

Townsend Harris was United States consul at Ningpo in 1854, and in 1856 made a new treaty for the United States with Siam. On the opening of Japan by Commodore Perry he was selected to follow up that work by diplomacy. In 1859 he secured the first treaty of trade and commerce between the United States and Japan and the opening of three ports to foreign resi-

Russians Reach Suez Canal

Port Said, Nov. 25 .- A division of the Russian second Pacific squadron has arrived here. All precautions have been taken to prevent any untoward incident during the passage of the vessels through the Suez canal.

The division consists of three battleships, three cruisers, seven torpedo boat destroyers and eight transports. The division exchanged salutes with the town on ent ring and the Russian bands played the British national anthem in honor of the presence of the British guardship Furious.

Unsuccessful Attack by Japs Mukden, Nov. 20.-The Japanese made a fresh attack on Poutiloff or Lone Tree hill the night of Nov. 22. Their advancing ranks were decimated by the Russian shell fire. Some of the Japanese secured lodgment on the slopes of the hill, but were driven out at the point of the bayonet, when the whole Japanese contingent fled.

A similar attempt was made the same night south of Erdagou, which also was repulsed with a bayonet charge. The Japanese lost heavily, while the Russian loss was 30 killed.

Meat Ship Falls Into Japs' Hands

Chefoo, Nov. 25 .- The report that the steamer Tungchow, laden with 30,000 tins of meat, was captured by the Japanese while trying to enter Port Arthur, appears to be correct. The Tung-1836-1865-1904 chow was a British vessel, and belonged to Butterfield & Swire of Shanghai. When leaving Shanghai she was transferred at the last moment to a man believed to be acting for the Russian government.

Port Arthur's Fall Inevitable

London, Nov. 25 .- The correspondent at Moscow of The Daily Telegraph claims authority for the statement that General Stoessel's dispatch sent by the torpedo boat Rastorpony informed Emperor Nicholas that the Port Arthur garrison was being starved out, with other frank details of its actual condition, showing that the fall of the fortress is inevitable.

Beating Caused His Death

Bridgeport, Conn., Nov. 25 .- Thomas P. Fitzpatrick, 19 years old, died at his home as the result of a fight, according to a statement of his mother, in which he engaged in a West Side factory, fered a concussion of the brain and blunt instrument.

Fushimi Leaves St Louis

St. Louis, Nov. 25 .- Prince Fushimi. who has been visiting the exposition since last Saturday, has departed for Philadelphia and will continue to tour America before returning to Japan. In expression of his appreciation, Fushimi bestowed many beautiful gifts. The prince also was the recipient of many presents.

Insane Patient Choked to Death Chicago, Nov. 25 .- Samuel P. Glosser, a patient in the county asylum for the insane, was choked to death and the coroner will endeavor to ascertain whether he was killed by Alexander Harper, a colored man, who is also a patient in the asylum, or by John Conway and Scott Hogan, two attendants.

It may be of It is only proper, at this time, that interest to compare a few items for the first ten months of this year with the all the citizens of New England should first ten months of last year.

It will be observed that though the appropriations of this year aggregate more, the balance Oct. 31 was less.

The receipts for the ten months this year are larger than last year, but a man of ability, sound judgment and hey include $89,000 more raised on temporary loans than last year.

The collection of taxes has been larger, but the "back taxes" collected to Oct. 31 were not sufficient to pay temporary loans and two special municipal oans of 1903 aggregating $260,000, which have already matured and been paid. Perhaps the extra $89,000 borrowed on temporary loans was needed to help out Havana, Nov. 25 .- "We challenge this item, the back tax collected amounting to but $207,673.78.

JOHN WINGATE WEEKS.

Career of the Successor to Congressman Samuel L. Powers.

Of all the fourteen congressmen chosen at the last election to represent Massachusetts none received a more popular endorsement than did Captain know something of the characteristics of their representatives to Congress. Captain Weeks stands today in the fore ground of Massachusetts citizenship as broad ideas. His career has been one steady succession of achievements.

In financial circles his counsel has been highly regarded. During the financial crises in Boston that followed the failure of the Globe National Bank the sound judgment and prompt action of Captain Weeks won the admiration of his business associates. He has been largely instrumental in building up the Newtonville Trust company and has been its president from the beginning.

In his political life, Captain Weeks stands for all that is clean, honest and courageous. As mayor of Newton he was from start to finish true to his convictions. He served in that capacity two terms and declined a third term, which was urged upon him by a large majority of his fellow-citizens, irrespective of party.

In his recent congressional campaign-a campaign which was in many ways a remarkable one-he maintained a dignified attitude; met his opponents fairly and honorably and defined his attitude on various national issues so clearly as to leave no question as to where he stood. It was this clean-cut and uncompromising policy that won for him the splendid endorsement of his own city and the district. And so it has come about that Captain Weeks-a man of the people; a thorough going business man; an ideal citizen and the sort of man, in every way, that Massachusetts people always delight in honoring-has received at the hands of his constituents a seat in Congress. No better equipped man to meet the problems of the present day as they are presented to the lower national house could be had. No man who has a better understanding of international questions, particularly as the same relate to naval and military affairs, could have been selected. The district has certainly made no mistake in his selection and he is bound to do It great honor before his service shall have been completed.

Author Wagner Tells of Influence That Led to It

STORY OF HIS BOYHOOD

Love of Nature Caused Him Even to Worship the Moon-- Love and Religion Come From God's Church In the Open

Atlantic City, N. J., Nov. 26.-Before an audience that occupied every bit of room in St. Paul's church here, Rev. Charles Wagner of Paris, author of "The Simple Life," for the first time since he has been in this country told criticises the traffic arrangements of his hearers of his early life and training and how he came to write the book. John Wanamaker of Philadelphia introduced Mr. Wagner. On the pulpit platform were many ministers of this city.

"I am going to ask Mr. Wagner," said Mr. Wanamaker, "not to preach a sermon. I am going to make a request of him that he tell something of his early life, of those happy boyhood the knowledge that has since made him famous and how he came to write 'The Simple Life.' Whether it was because he really felt the book was needed, or whether it was just to gratify a desire to write a book."

In the course of his address Mr. Wagner said:

As I look toward my childhood days I look toward a time that was full of riches and joys, even though I was a poor son of a village pastor; but I was a king in those days, for my being craved all the beauties of nature, and I had them all about me. I was richin the love of nature. My father said to me, "Boy, go, look and listen." I was free. Soon I was among the flowers, the birds and the fishes, and, as I had a religious heart, the whole universe was to me a great sanctuary.

I even worshipped the moon. The am sure to this day, saw me from be- Leong Tong, a Chinese secret society, hind the curtains, but he did not cor- which is reputed to foster opium traf-

When I was a young man I lived among fighters for religion. They fought not with the open heart, but with the closed fist-a regular boxing religion.

It was not long before I decided to preach-to start out and tell others what had been taught me. But I was a lone preacher for a time. I was the preacher in the wilderness, and then my congregations grew larger and larger, and finally someone told me that others who were not within the sound of my voice should hear the doctrine of the "simple life," and I started to write books.

If you within sound of my voice have children, teach them the simple life. What I have seen of this country. I find that beneath its greatness and goodness there is the true simplicity. The other day your great President of the United States welcomed me and took me by the hand. the prosaic duties of this office did not leave him much time to commune with the muses, and in consequence of this he determined on surrendering the post. He was not appointed on the strength of his reputation as a poet. He had practiced law in Kansas since 1871, had served in the Kansas legislature and was a veteran of the civil war. President Roosevelt thought he had the making of a good pension agent and offered him that in Kansas. Mr. Ware refused it. The idea of a good office being declined was so refreshing to the president that he offered Ware the pension commissioner-

"Mr. President, I do not want the office," said Ware.

"Yes," Mr. Roosevelt is said to have replied, "and the longer you have it the less you will want it." Thus the Kansas poet was drafted into service, so to speak. His resignation takes effect Jan. 1. Mr. Ware is sixty-three years of age and was born in Hartford, Conn. His volume of verses, entitled "Rhymes of Ironquill," has gone through ten editions. He says that two years in the pension office are equivalent to four years in purgatory.

The first time I personally had the honor to meet General Kuropatkin he was voyenniy natchalnik, or "military commander," of the new province of Transcaspia. That was in October, 1890, and at Askabad, where he hadhis headquarters. When I called upon him my overcoat was taken charge of my visit announced by an aid-de-camp. The walls of the noble apartment were adorned with Asiatic weapons, ancient little the general entered, dressed in full uniform, for he was about to preside at a meeting of some sort. He is a short but strongly built man, with a black beard and small but kindly and intelligent eyes. I was then just setting out on my first journey to Kashgar, and Kuropatkin gave me a good deal of information about the dangerous pass of Terekdavan. Although I expected to find it buried in snow, he did not attempt to dissuade me from the journey. A northerner would not permit himself to be deterred by either snow or cold. When I let fall the remark that upon my return home I intended to write a book about Turkestan Kuropatkin replied humorously that there were no secrets in Askabad. I have heard people express aston ishment that General Kuropatkin should carry icons, or sacred images, with him to the seat of war in the far east. But it must not be forgotten that General Kuropatkin is a genuine Orthodox Russian of the old stamp, and, notwithstanding his intimacy with western Europeans, especially Frenchmen, he has always remained a Russian. At the same time I believe he is much too practical a man to put his trust in sacred images alone. Nobody will, I suppose, dispute the fact that he is the ablest of living Russian strategists and commanders.

TOWN vs. CITY.

Movement for City Government in first attempt at working in oils. Hyde Patk Meets Objection.

The Hyde Park Gazette does not look with favor upon the movement to make Hyde Park a city. It says editorially: "Although we have the population movement asking the General Court for gether, leaning over the garden wall. a city charter is premature and needs serious consideration. Hyde Park, undoubtedly, would look well on the map quainted with it. as the second city in Norfolk county, but before we venture into deep water, unable, perhaps, to swim out it would be well to get some information from the wretched man and to his delighted one of the leading citizens of that city quainted with the author of Jack's besome representative form of government if it could abandon its present city charter. Brookline, with a much larger population than Hyde Park, gets along sat- but"isfactorily with the town form of government, and we believe that Hyde paused. Park with a good board of selectmen and an advisory board can accomplish as much and do as much good as the more cumbersome board of aldermen and city council could accomplish. We think that the movement for a city charter is ill considered and could be abandoned at this time with advantage to our taxpayers."

ABUSE OF ATHLETICS.

Improve the Health. Athletics may be good or evil and in the same manner as a two edged sword.

The prime object in athletics is improvement of the general health. One writer has said that health, like happiness, does not exist. He said the body consists of a number of mechanfor your votes. If you cannot see with- isms which have the closest and most exact relations, and as they approximate to harmony there is health, but friends. when disordered there is ill health.

There is no evidence to prove that athletics and muscle building improve the constitution.

One should always keep in mind the fact that built up or hypertrophied muscle has a tendency to degenerate. The heart, being a muscular organ, shares in this tendency.

In regard to the moral side of the question, it remains to be proved that athletics per se corrupt the morals. Dr. F. R. Sturgis is confident that athletics improve the morals of a commu-

Although the evidence for and against athletics is contradictory, the whole subject may be summed up by stating that athletics are beneficial when properly and judiciously applied and very injurious when the precautions above mentioned are ignored or carelessly regarded.-Medical Record.

A WOODEN INTRODUCTION.

How Gainsborough Got Acquainted With Thicknesse.

Gainsborough, the artist, was born at Sudbury, in England, and there, says Lord Ronald Gower, he designed his first work of art. The orchard of his father's place had been repeatedly plundered of fruit. No one knew who the thief might be until one day young Gainsborough saw there a rough looking man leaning his elbows on the brick wall. He made a sketch of the fellow, and from this portrait the thief was afterward identified.

Later the boy cut out a rough figure from wood and painted it in oils in the likeness of this man. The scarecrow was known as "Jack Peartree." It probably represents Gainsborough's

It was the means of introducing the artist to one of his most intimate friends, Thicknesse, the lieutenant governor of the Landguard fort, near Ipswich. "Well?" she said inquiringly as he

"Taking everything into considera tion," he went on, "is it true economy?

"Isn't it?" she demanded. "Well. I hardly feel competent to pass judgment on the question," he replied. "I have just received our fam ily physician's bill for the treatment of those three cases of acute dyspepsia that developed in the family during the last month. Now, perhaps"

But she was just as mad as if he hadn't tried to break it to her gently .-New York Press.

The English Face.

An American woman not long since returned from abroad was heard to say that what chiefly struck her in the English faces she met during her walks was their resigned expression.

"They didn't look sad, and they didn't look happy," she explained, "but they one and all had the air of awaiting the worst and being prepared for it. And that," she added vindictively, "is the only state of mind possible with the English climate."-New York

"Why, dear," said the poet's wife after the acceptance of his first poem by a magazine, "what is the matter? You seem to be awfully downcast."

"Yes," he sadly replied. "I am. I'm worried about our child. The sons of great men seem to have such a poor chance to turn out well, you know."-Chicago Record-Herald.

Result of Election Promise.

It is doubtful if any city in the United States can boast of as peculiar an election celebration as the Republicans recently held at Moscow, Ida., says the Chicago Inter Ocean. For over an hour a huge fire, fed by hats, burned within one block of the center of the city, while a gang of bareheaded men, shouting with might and main, danced about to the great delight of the spectators.

On election day Moscow Republicans, Mrs. John J. Reardon, nee Hart, gave feeling sure of victory, were loudly an at-home to her music pupils at her proclaiming on Main street what they would do to the Democrats in the nation. PAYING AN ELECTION BET.

Society Girl of Denver Scrubbed Steps of Colorado State Capitol.

At noon the other day in Denver a big automobile filled with a rollicking bevy of well dressed women skidded up to the state capitol, says a special it that only three new members will dispatch for Denver. All eyes centered on the prettiest girl, Miss Sadie Kennedy, who sat with serious mien in the tonneau.

She was the last to get out. When she did her laughing friends surrounded her and the jolly circle hurried up the steps and through the hall to the marble stairway in the center of the building.

The young woman carried a bucket in one hand and in the other a scrubbing brush and a huge piece of soap. With a swish of silk she hurried up the steps, threw herself down on her knees and began to apply soap and wa- of a trained lawyer.

Gossip Has It That He Will to kill Graham. Succeed Shaw, Who Has Presidential Aspirations, and That Bonaparte Will Be Secretary of Commerce and Labor

Washington, Nov. 26 .- The latest name mentioned in connection with the revised cabinet list is Charles J. Bonaparte of Maryland. It was doubtless suggested in part on the ground of Bonaparte's eminent ability, and in part because there had been so much talk of late about selection of a southern Republican.

It is true that Maryland is not one of the states of the far south, but it is southern and Democratic in its general sentiment. The only remnant of Republicanism left in the recent vote on national candidates, according to the face of the returns, is Bonaparte, himself, who was chosen as a presidential elector, and his success in pulling through was due to the universal confidence in which he is held by his fellow citizens of all parties. In that way his selection for the new cabinet would be hailed with high praise.

Bonaparte has twice stepped out of his routine path in life to take up delicate and thankless tasks at the personal instance of the president. One was that of assisting in the prosecution of the postoffice swina.ers; the second was the investigation of affairs in the Moon 7 10:36 Moon 22 p.m Indian Territory. Few other men in puster 14 p.m. Quarter 30 2.31 his position in life could have been induced to undertake either.

Mr. Bonaparte and the president are old friends. They became acquainted when both were fighting the battle for civil reform. When Roosevelt became form league of Maryland, and their mutual interests in the subject brought George B. Cortelyou, and that of these three one will be secretary of the treasury, one postmaster general and one secretary of commerce and labor. The latter place, it is thought, may be offered to Bonaparte, if the president adheres to his present intention and transfers Secretary Metcalf to the department of the interior. It is a place Bonaparte is especially qualified to fill, inasmuch as the duties in connection with the investigation of corporations and the cleaning, singling out of those who violate the law, require the talents

It is hinted that Shaw is already high protectionists and the "standpatters" for the nomination in 1908. This strengthens the belief that Cortelyou may be made secretary of the may be assigned to the postoffice department.

WRECKING THE FAIR

THE EXPOSITION AT ST. LOUIS WILL SOON BE IN RUINS.

Work of Tearing It Down to Begin When the Gates Close, Nov. 30. Picturesque and Pathetic Sights That May Soon Be Witnessed.

In a few days more the great world's fair of 1904 at St. Louis will be a thing of the past. The last gate fee will James M. Graham, a lawyer's clerk, in have been taken. The illumination of the Cascades and Festival hall that evoked such ecstasies of admiration will have vanished forever, leaving only the gorgeous word paintings of magazine and newspaper writers to perpetuate its memory. The congresses and Olympic games and airship races will all be over. President Francis will take a vacation from speechmaking, the board of lady managers will have said the last word, and even on the Pike there will be "nothing doing." Then the wrecking of the exhibit buildings will begin. First the statuary will come down from domes and towers and pediments and pillars. ### ARMY DESERTIONS

Chaffee Favors Disfranchisement as a Remedy

WOULD RELIEVE PRISONS

Proof of Value of General Staff Corps--Artillery Arm Needs More Men and Officers and Has Other Deficiencies

General Chaffee, chief of staff of the United States army, in his annual report, says in his opinion little new general legislation is needed at this time. He says sufficient time has not elapsed since the reorganization of the army to determine wisely what legislation is necessary. He suggests the enactment of state laws disfranchising deserters from the army, adding:

"If all states and territories should by law withhold from deserters exercise of the right to vote at national, state and minicipal elections, unless the act of desertion be atoned for by lawful discharge, subsequently earned by service, it seems probable that the most healthful remedy practicable would be applied to the evil and that the result would be surprisingly great. The majority of deserters would return to the colors at their own expense and serve out their unexpired enlistment contracts in order to receive a lawful discharge, which would re-establish their civil status."

The general says that inquiry of men in guard houses on his tour of inspection elicited no special reason for de sertion, the general reply being that army life was not what had been anticipated. General Chaffee believes the adoption of his suggestion would relieve military prisons of two-thirds of their occupants.

Relative to the general staff corps he says: "Abundant proof of the wisdom of congress in establishing the new corps and prescribing its duties is found in the record of its first year's work, which warrants the confident expectation that in due time the highly important objects of the law will be fully accomplished.'

The signal corps is commended for the installation of the Alaskan telegraph system. The report urges the re-establishment of recruiting depots at Fort Slocum, Columbus barracks and Jefferson barracks.

At present there are something over 1700 general prisoners at army posts and the post guard houses are simply crowded to an unsanitary limit.

A number of extracts from the re ports of general officers favoring the restoration of the canteen are given. General Chaffee says that the number of men and officers in the artillery corps is insufficient and the plan of organization is not of the best. The pay allowed is said to be inadequate to obtain the men desired for the artillery arm. The report adds that the chief of artillery says that in the absence of approved range and position-finding equipment and other accessories, the coast defense guns are deprived of twothirds of their value by day and all or nearly all of their value by night. All the deficiencies cited, it is stated, can be removed only after legislative action by congress. It is added, however, that conditions do not seem to be so critical as to warrant hasty action.

Quebec Carried by Liberals

Montreal, Nov. 26.-The Quebec provincial elections resulted in the return of 31 Liberals and six Conservatives. Thirty-five Liberals had previously been elected by acclamation. The Conservatives had decided not to enter the contest as a protest against their being held at the present time, so closely following the federal elections, making it impossible to secure a fair verdict of the people on purely provincial issues. Nevertheless 14 Conservative candidates came out and of these six were elected.

Morton, "the fellow of infinite jests," who is probably the most popular monologue comedian in the varieties. The program will contain 16 acts, every one of which will be well worth witnessing.

COLUMBIA MUSIC HALL. A splendid and satisfying performance is being given this week at Columbia Music hall. There is a complete change of bill from that of last week and on Monday a very strong company composed of people who have not before played at this house began the presentation of the musical farce, "Pousse Cafe." This is by tar the prettiest and most entertaining of any of the Weber & Fields comedies vet given. It would seem that any one who could have such an entertainment at such prices unsatisfied would find fault with almost anything in the amusement line. Underlined for next week is another Weber-Field "Hurly-Burly" skit, with another new company presenting it.

Miss Haskell presided at the organ, and as the bridal party entered the edifice the church quartette sang the bridal chorus from Libhengren. They left the church to the inspiring strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march.

The ushers were: Charles A. Howand, Jr., Charles A. Price, Harry E. Russell, Dr. Robert B. Porter of Quincy, Herbert W. Barker of New York, and Arthur W. Hollis of Brookline. The service was very impressive.

arrying a large bonquet of lilies of the valley, the bride looked charming. She is of blonde type, tall and stately a pleasant contrast to the groom who is tall and of darker coloring. The maid of honor wore a beautiful gown of yellow chiffon velvet.

There was a large attendance, the church and gallery being filled. Being a day wedding the ladies predominated and they were some strikingly beautiful costumes. Following the ceremony at the church a very small reception was held at the home of the bride on Adams street, those invited being the two First Church Organ Fund families, the girl friends of the bride and a few neighbors.

Mr. and Mrs. Holden are to make their home at South Orange, New Jersey, as Mr. Holden is in business in New York City. They will be missed from Quincy where they have always lived and been identified with First church and all the social doings of the are highly satisfactory. The history of our diet may be summed up by say ing that from the first it planted itself firmly in opposition to the government on financial questions. Serious collisions between the governed and governing were predicted, but when the war came this friction entirely ceased and the house of representatives, which once refused to pass a budget of $125,000,000 as excessive and unbearable, gave a ready and willing assent to the first war budget of $280,000,000.

"At this session of the diet the government will be compelled to present a budget calling for $388,000,000 and indications are that it will be passed without the slightest difficulty. This happy phenomenon is attributable to the characteristics of our people.

"Before a great national problem our people unite and friends and opponents join hands for the accomplishment of our national purposes. With the great problem before them, the people of our nation have become as one man. We have no war party and no peace party as Russia has, but, on the contrary, our nation is one and united with a determination to fight to the last extremity."

Regret is expressed in the London newspapers that there is no provision in the convention for the punishment of those who may be found responsible for the Dogger Bank affair, and The Morning Post sarcastically declares that Great Britain has created a precedent for permitting foreign pavies to fire on British vessels with virtual impunity. Otherwise the editorial articles merely echo previously expressed opinions.

NO CHANGE NOTED

Both Parties to Fall River Strike Remain as Firm as Ever

Fall River, Mass., Nov. 28 .- With conditions so far as the great mass of workers is concerned practically unchanged, the textile strike in this city, involving nearly 26,000 operatives, has reached the 19th week of its continuance. Following their practice of the past two weeks the mill owners today threw open the mill gates and invited such of their former employes as are willing to work for wages 121/2 percent less than they formerly received to return. There is nothing to indicate that a considerable number was thus attracted.

Since Thanksgiving day some of the strikers have returned to work, and the officials of the Seaconnet and Davis mills report that they are gradually securing sufficient help to permit the operation of their full plant. These and unimportant.

Fatal Applause. An English lady snake charmer named Leyton was performing at a village called Vaelhlinger, in Rhenish Prussia, in a menagerie with a boa constrictor. This she permitted to coil round her neck and breast. Her courage met with thunders of applause from the spectators, who little dreamed that by their signs of approval they had sealed the poor charmer's death warrant. Such, however, proved to be the case, for, apparently infuriated at their demonstrations, the reptile tightened its coils and amid the shricks of the public strangled the lady on the platform before anything could be done to assist her. The snake was im-

Hughes, Polk and Gearwar. Among those who will be missed are Whiton, Hardwick, Thompson, Holmes, Johnson, Walsh, Reardon, Nickerson, McFarland, Hadlock and Langelier.

All Candidates for Elective Office Must File Statements.

The official ballots used at the recent municipal caucuses contained the names of seventy persons seeking nominations to elective offices and 135 names of persons seeking election to Ward Committees. Under the caucus law each of the seventy who sought nomination to an elective office must make a return to the City Clerk of the expenses incurred by him. The time for making this return expires Nov. 30, and none have yet been received. Since the caucus the City Clerk has sent to each of these 70 the official expense blank for them to fill out. In addition to the blank which they must file of expenses incurred at the caucuses, those nominated, must alater file a second blank stating the expense incurred by them at the municipal election. After they are all in the City Clerk has to make his return to the State authorities. The City Clerk also has to notify those who received the nomination at the caucuses of that fact, and certify to the chairmen of the City Committees the names of the ward committee elected. All of this is but a small part of the work which the caucuses and election devolve upon City Clerks under the election laws.

Remember the prize speaking contest by the boys in Faxon ball, December 5. First and second prizes, will be ten and five dollar gold pieces. Third prize, a beautiful, combination pocket knife. Soprano and violin solos. a good time is expected.

FAIRBANKS COMING.

Will Be Honored Guest at the Home Market Club Banquet.

Hon. John Shaw, prominent in the Home Market club, intends that there shall be a large Quincy representation at the grand reception and dinner of the club, to be given in Mechanics' building, Boston, on Thursday evening,

Chief among the speakers will be Vice-President-elect Fairbanks, the Hon. W. H. Montague, member of the privy council of the Dominion of Canada, and the Hon. John D. Long. Gov. Bates will extend the welcome of the Commonwealth. A rare musical treat is expected from the Orpheus Glee Club, of 50 male voices, and the American Watch Company band. It is intimated that general felicitation over the recent national victory will be a leading feature of the speechmaking, and that it is not improbable that Mr. Montague may refer to the question of reciprocity with Canada and the Chamberlain policy. Many prominent men have already secured tickets, a number even coming from New York. The sale is now open to the public, and tickets may be procured at the club's office in the Merchants building, 77 Summer street.

Bridal Couple in Court.

Inspector McKay, armed with a earch warrant, visited the house of Patrick White at 43 Union street on Monday, and took possession of a miscellaneous lot of articles, · including pictures, sofa pillows, album, china clock, etc., alleged to have been stolen from Mrs. Mary Truesdale, and a trunk alleged to have been left with Mrs. Truesdale for safe keeping. The articles are alleged to have been taken from Mrs. Truesdale's house Sunday evening by her daughter Lillian and Patrick White who were married in Brockton Nov. 22. The goods were taken while the family were away by the daughter who claims they belong to her. The newly wedded couple were summoned into court for larceny.

A morning paper reports the death on Monday, on a train between Readville and Hyde Park, of a man supposed to be George Lemineaux of West Quincy. The man ran for the train at Readville which brought on an attack of heart trouble, causing his death. In his clothing was a N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R. employe's pass, made out in the name of George Lemineaux between West Quincy and Readville.

Inquiry at West Quincy brought the information that the man lived at 10 West street and that he had a wife and several children. He was employed at the repair shops at Readville.

Death of President Paxton

Princeton, N. J., Nov. 29 .- Rev. Dr. William M. Paxton of Princeton university and seminary died at his home here, after two weeks' illness. Mr. Paxton was in his 81st year and his death was the result of a paralytic stroke, caused by over-excitement during the Yale-Princeton football game on Nov. 12. Hopes for his recovery had been expressed, but a relapse weakened him and resulted in his death. Dr. Paxton leaves a wife and seven children.

KNEE BREECHES.

Their Points of Superiority Over the Long Trousers.

The long trouser has every fault which it is possible to combine in a single garment. It rubs at the ankle, which is not true of the knickerbocker. If you turn up the trouser, then you create a horizontal crease, which is just as bad as the rubbing of the edge. A band of leather does not really save the trouser from attrition against the

Then consider the knees. No amoun of pressing or stretching will really save a pair of trousers from becoming baggy at this singularly inopportune joint. The man who is true to his Joseph M. Bulger, trousers must never sit and must nevmost walking slowly can he preserve the contour of his costume.

Here again knickerbockers solve the problem. The chief beauty of knicker bockers is that they are baggy at the knees. Their virtue is the trousers vice. And there are other advantages On a muddy day a man with long trousers finds that they are covered with dust. He cannot send them to the wash and has to trust entirely to the clothes brush or vacuum cleaner The weather was cold and sharp last But in the case of stockings, all he has to do is to put on a new pair nex morning.

It is therefore no wonder that two pairs of trousers are necessary to last out one "coat and vest," whereas two "coats and vests" are necessary to last out one pair of knee breeches .- London

CHRISTMAS GIVING.

the Yuletide.

Margaret Deland, writing in Harper's Bazar on the subject of "Christmas Giving," says:

"Where any uncertainty exists let us give as a token of love or friendship or human kindness something that while expressing these things, will at least be harmless. Let it be some thing that does not last-that brings the meaning and vanishes-something that never will know the indignity of the top shelf of the spare room closet!

"A knock at a friend's door on Christmas morning and the clasp of a hand read a paper Monday evening before the loaf of bread, the jug of wine; but, do this. A growing plant does it. Yes. most of all, thou beside me, singing in the wilderness, the personal revelation does it. Suppose a letter came on Christmas morning to say, not 'you are perfectly dear to have sent me a spool box,' but 'I want you to know has its headquarters in the barn in the that your patience or courage or ten derness during this last year will help me to live more bravely and courageously and lovingly this next year! What a Christmas present the receipt of such a letter would be to any on of us! How we would take heart to live ourselves! What a Christmas present for any one of us to send to the human heart that has given us courage for the burden and heat of the day!"

Following his movements in this manner the police hope to have the man in custody soon.

May Be Much-Wanted Man

Boston, Nov. 29 .- The police of the Brighton district last night arrested a man whom they believe to be the tramp that the authorities are looking for in connection with the murder of Mrs. Brigham. He gave the name of James Riley, believed to be the name of the wanted tramp, and his description tallies very accurately with that given by persons who saw the man hanging about the vicinity about the time the murder was committed. Riley was arrested by a Brighton policeman on the charge of drunkenness.

The man under arrest gave his age as 45, said he weighed 195 pounds, and is five feet 81/4 inches in height. He wore light gray trousers, a brown undercoat that was worn and faded, and had two overcoats, one of which he was wearing and the other he was carrying on his arm. He wore a black slouch hat. He said that he was in South Framingham last Saturday and that since then he has walked in, working at odd jobs on the way.

Was Able to Pay Depositors Kalamazoo, Mich., Nov. 29.-Excited savings depositors of the Kalamazoo Savings bank created a run on the institution and drew about $50,000 of their deposits, but after keeping the bank open two hours later than usual, the officials considered the run broken. Business men came to the assistance of the bank by deposits and guaranteed checks.

What the City Needs is Men. Men. MEN.

PUBLIC WORKS.

Now for one or two particulars. All good citizens are interested in the money. How does the Street Departdepartment is naturally taken first because it is most in the public eye. It is a matter of common remark that no private corporation could exist a year under the lazy, inefficient and wasteful one-half of their wages; and one-half really means 50 per cent.

Take two or three typical cases, which can be multiplied indefinitely by almost anybody. A gang of men are repairing the street. The "gang" seems to consist of a boss, possibly self-appointed, and two workers. The boss leans against a post and smokes placidly while superintending the gentle efforts of the two other beings who dawdle ineffectively with pick and shovel, and keep their pipes alight. One ablebodied man, working alone under a proper system of responsibility and rigid discipline, would do more work than this gang of three, and at onethird of the expense.

The road-roller gang was "working" one day on Granite street. The huge and costly machine was standing stock still, while a chance loafer, with his foot on the bub, talked leisurely with the engineer, and the whole gang of ease the taxpayer, and the only way to laborers leaned sympathetically on their shovels, smoked, and viewed the cenery. There was absolutely "nothing doing" as long as the observer had time to watch.

A gang of workmen was setting curbstones on one of our bill streets valuations, "Trust him not, he is where a near-by resident, detained at | home by illness, could watch operations. The pretended "work" would better be called a game of loafing and smoking, since three and one-half hours of real work would have accomplished due. How have our Collectors and

Give us to be useless and unfit. Public work such men and almost any old charter is costs enough without wasting wages on men whose services are of no value.

ASSESSMENT OF TAXES.

Now a word about the taxes. Is there anybody at this late day who is economical spending of the public fooled by the silly annual juggling with tax rates? Does the taxpayer get any ment stand in this regard? And this comfort out of the slightly reduced tax rate, when his tax bill is no smaller? What the people want is not lower tax rates but lower tax bills.

To lower the rate and raise the valuation is merely to pull one foot out of management of this department. In the the mud while the other sinks deeper opinion of many conservative observers in the mire. A low rate multiplied by the city laborers do not earn more than a high valuation is the same as a high rate by a low valuation. Which sounds rather elementary: and yet it is the simple principle which the politicans try to twist out of shape each year.

There is absolutely but one thing to consider in connection with valuation, and that is to make it equitable, which means to treat everybody exactly alike. It makes no difference whether the valuation is high or low if the same standard is used for all.

The simple, honest and obvious thing to do is to have impartial experts assess each and every piece of property in the city equitably at its fair market value, and then fix a rate which, multiplied by the total valuation, will bring the amount of money needed for city expenses. And if taxes are then too high, it will be because the public noney is not spent economically. There is no possible hocus-pocus

GIRL MISSING.

Out of Employment and Had Hinted Suicide.

Miss Clara Miller, aged 18 years, a Swedish domestic, is reported as missing. Nothing has been seen or heard from her since Nov. 13 and her friends fear that something has befallen her. She had been employed at the hospital at the Fore River works, but left there Mrs. Nelson's boarding house on School street. She appeared somewhat downhearted and was heard to remark that she would do the same as Christine did. Christine is the laundry woman killed on the railroad some time previous.

She left Mrs. Nelson's the morning of Nov. 13, and has not been seen or heard from since. The girl has a sister in New York. A letter received from her states that she knows nothing of the missing girl's whereabouts.

When last seen the Miller girl had on a black skirt, dark grey coat, a big dark hat with a white feather. There were also three stars on the hat, one on each side and one in front. The girl's trunk is at Mrs. Nords on Arthur street. The trupk will be opened today in hopes some clue may be found.

To Be Expected of Woodward School Graduates.

A regular meeting of the board of managers of the Woodward Institute was held Tuesday afternoon, there was but little business to transact.

The resignation of Seth W. Fiske, janitor of the building, was accepted, and Abraham L. Buzzell was appointed to fill the vacancy.

Mr. Fiske resigned to accept a position as engineer at Lassell seminary, Auburndale.

The course in cooking adopted at the Woodward Institute this year is proving very popular, there are sixty young ladies taking the course. An elaborate kitchen has been fitted up for this course and the instruction 68.60 is a practical one.

In the centre of the room is a large table that has a total length of about 36

The table is in the shape of a n aithough the corners are square. The table will accommodate fifteen pupils at a time. On the outside are a series of drawers, one for each pupil. In these are kept the tins, pans and other cooking utensils. There are also $10.704.80 slides for the moulding boards. On the An informal talk on school matters in top of the table in front of each is a small gas stove, while in another part of the room is a larger gas stove and

> The instructor in this department occupies a position in the centre, so that she has immediate command of each pupil at all times. The instruction is very thorough, and unless all signs fail the future generations of young misses turned out at the Institute will be first class cooks.

Buys Boston Apartments. William B. Rice of this city is reported to have purchased Hotel Ericson at 373 Commonwealth avenue, near Massachusetts avenue, Boston.

This property, says the Globe, is one of the best of latest apartment houses in this section of the city, and comprises a large six-story stone and brick building ontaining 21 suites of one to four rooms and bath each. The total land area is 5684 square feet, taxed for $45,-500. The building is assessed for $74,-

The purchase price is said to have been considerably in excess of the taxed value of $120,000.

The same agents report the sale in Boston for Mr. Rice of two pieces of property; one on Blue Hill avenue, assessed for $56,800 and the other on Huckins street, assessed for $24,000.

Odd Fellows Exemplification. A special car conveyed about forty members of Mt Wollaston lodge of Odd Fellows to Brockton Tuesday evening. It was the fourteenth anniversary of Electric lodge of that city and about 400 Odd Fellows from nearby towns were present to witness an exmplification of the second degree. The Quincy visitors say they never saw such grand work. Grand Warden Belcher and District Deputy Chapin were among the guests. Electric lodge served an oyster supper with ice cream and fruit. There were orchestra selections during the work, and also at the supper.

CARNEGIE'S DENIAL

Mrs Chadwick Holds No $500, 000 Note From Him

MONEY MYSTERY GROWS

Striking Similarity In Certain Features Between Cleveland Woman's Operations and Those of Therese Humbert

Boston, Nov. 30.-Speculation whether an American Therese Humbert has been unearthed in the person of Cassie L. Chadwick, wife of Dr. Leroy S. Chadwick, a reputable physician of Cleveland, affords a present nine days' wonder. If the statement that she has hypothecated a note for $500,000, purporting to be signed by Andrew Carnegie but publicly repudiated by him, is substantiated, the wonder may last longer than that.

Much also depends upon developments in the common pleas court at Cleveland, where Treasurer Reynoids of the Wade Park bank has been subpoenaed to produce certain securities which he is said to hold in trust for Mrs. Chadwick. Mrs. Chadwick has also been subpoenaed to produce certain notes and other valuables of which she may be possessed, but she was in New York, outside the jurisdiction of the Ohio court and presumably beyond the reach of an Ohio process

On the strength of the alleged securities held in trust for her by Reynolds, said to be worth $5,000,000; because of a $500,000 note, purporting to have been made by one of the richest men in America and owned by her; and her or held as collateral for other loans to her, Mrs. Chadwick has obtained large loans from banks as well as from individuals.

The amount of her obligations no one pretends to estimate; but her operations covered a wide range of territory. One Ohio bank has already suspended because her paper has not been met at maturity, and the present publicity regarding her affairs is due to a suit brought by a Massachusetts man. This suit is to recover $190,800 for money loaned. Several other claims have reached the stage of legal proceedings.

It is interesting to note that Reynolds, the suppositious trustee, says he knows of no $500,000 note, that he has none such in his possession and does not believe it exists, and that he has no jewels belonging to Mrs. Chadwick. Altogether, the similarity of Mrs. Chadwick's millions held in trust to the millions sealed by the French courts in the Humbert safe will occur to everyone.

The Massachusetts man who is suing Mrs. Chadwick is Herbert B. Newton, formerly of Haverhill, but now of Brookline. His loan to Mrs. Chadwick, ness matter, she having satisfied him of her complete financial responsibility. Naturally the personality of the woman who has floated such large bringing of the suits and the exposure of her financial affairs.

The most that can be said with windows. The loss is $40,000. definiteness about her past is that, before Dr. Chadwick married her, she lived quietly on the "West Side" in Cleveland as Mrs. C. L. Hoover, a widow with one son. The marriage was performed Aug. 26, 1897, at Windsor, Ont. Thereupon Mrs. Chadwick took possession of the Chadwick mansion in Euclid avenue, where she has since lived and entertained on the scale expected of one of her apparent wealth and undoubted social position.

Of late years she has travelled great deal, visiting various cities meeting and trying to float loans with financiers, and spending some time in Europe. An odd feature of the pres ent situation is the absence of Dr Chadwick-presumably in Europe.

Rumors of Mrs Chadwick's Suicide New York, Nov. J.-Assistant Dis trict Afforney Krotel, Police Captain Cottrel and a detective were called to the Holland house last night by a rumor that Mrs. Cassie Chadwick had committed suicide. Captain Cottrel said that the manager sent up stairs to find out for him if there was any truth in the report and assured him there was none. It was later denied at the hotel that Mrs. Chadwick is staying ence here last night. It was an there.

SPONGE SAVED CORBETT Nelson Wins Hot Battle of Lightweights in Ten Rounds

San Francisco, Nov. 30.-In the greatest fight witnessed between little men in years, "Battling" Nelson of Chicago won from "Young Corbett" of Denver in 10 rounds. From the tap of the bell until Corbett's seconds threw up the sponge, Nelson was master of the sitby virtue of other valuable evidences His in-fighting was a revelation and apparently slown to exist in trust for the most brilliant witnessed in any ring here. For the last three rounds of the fight Corbett was as helpless as a baby, but he wobbled around groggily and game ly until the repeated calls from around the house to stop the fight caused Harry Tuthill to enter the ring. The fight was over and the new man is in line to vanquish Britt. Corbett, bathed in blood and with a sickly smile, shook hands with the victor and was then helped out of the ring. Nelson looked strong and was unmarked. He received the congratuations of scores of friends who crowd ed about him. After posing for the snapshot men, he was carried off on the shoulders of his smiling friends. The house gave him a tremendous ova-

BURNED TO THE GROUND

Incendiary Responsible For Destruction of Summer Hotel Great Barrington, Mass., Nov. 30 .-The Hotel Barrington, a summer hoselry, valued at $35,000 and owned by Clarence D. Rowe, was destroyed by fire undoubtedly of incendiary origin late last night. The hotel was situated on a high piece of ground half a mile outside of the village. Shortly before midnight flames were seen in December 6, 1904. the second story of the hotel and an alarm was sounded. Because of ...e long distance the fire department was compelled to travel and the difficult hill up which the apparatus had to climb, the headway made by the flames Gustave B. Bates, was too great to be overcome by the firemen. The hotel was constructed of Peter T. Fallon, wood throughout and the building was soon burned to the ground.

The hotel was closed for the season Oct. 1, and since that time the building has been vacant. Rowe visited the place yesterday afternoon and at that time there was no fire in the building. There were 60 sleeping cooms and several large assembly and dining rooms, all of which were compietely furnished. Rowe carried an insurance of $25,000.

Fears For Missing Schooners Providence, Nov. 30.—The absence of tidings from the schooners Quinnebaug and Charles E. Wilbur, which sailed from Savannah and Darien, Ga., on Nov 2 for New York, is causing considerable anxiety concerning their safety in this city, as a large portion of the stock in the craft is owned locally and the Wilbur's crew was shipped here. assessing carefully and thoroughly each and every piece of property every year? Of course an outsider can judge only by occasional straws, but straws show which way the wind blows.

Some years ago a building standing on a certain piece of land was torn the same as before, and the owner through timidity or ignorance paid the bills. How could such a thing happen? Is it possible that the assessors, principals, and assistants, sat smoking comfortably in their offices year after year and copied old lists instead of going carefully through every part of the city every year to note changes and improvements and revise estimates?

This incident is given merely as a type, in the belief that readers can supply other instances of slipshod work if they choose. The mistake mentioned happened to be against the taxpayer, and naturally came to light after a while, but if such careless work is going on, who shall say how much money the city is losing by mistakes in the taxpayer's favor? As poor, frail human nature is at present constituted, citizens who are undertaxed are not rushing to City Hall to have mistakes
